McGILL

He Looked at Gandhi's Picture

He got up to go and his eyes fell on a picture on my office wall —that of the late Mohandas Gandhi with an inserted, smaller one of a son, Devades, who had presented both to me in New Delhi, India, almost three years ago.

He stood silent for a time . . . suddenly he began to talk about Gandhi.

"His words burned in your blood," he said. "I remember when I first talked with him. I was a student. Many of us went to hear him. We sought an opportunity to talk with him. He agreed. . . .

"You know what he did? It was so typical."

He went on, not waiting for a reply.

"He gave us an appointment. And this was what was typical. He set it for about 5 o'clock in the morning. It was necessary for us to arise about three and walk some eight miles to where he was. This was a testing.

"We asked him what we had to do to follow him. He looked at us and he said, "First, you must quit these bureaucratic colleges. Then you must help the people to resist without hate or violence —but to resist."

Conscience

"I recall that I asked, 'Whom shall we follow?' He looked at us, and said, 'In matters between yourself and your parents and your conscience, follow your conscience.' It sounds incredible. I know, here in an office. But then, with the dawn breaking over our land and the fevers of youth burning in us, his words set further fires in our blood. And they never went out."

The man talking was Chapalakanta Bhattacharyya, aged 53, married, the father of three sons and two daughters. He is one of the distinguished scholars and advocates of India, one of a family of scholars. For a time an advocate of the Calcutta High Court. He is a former officer of the Bengal Bankers Federation. He presently is editor of one of Calcutta's most influential newspapers, the Ananda Bazar Patrika, and a dean in the University of Calcutta. I put this down because it dramatizes the fact that he gave up all that he had to follow Gandhi. He endured poverty, prison and great discomfort. He fought under Gandhi in all his political and social movements. He is known all over India as a great and gentle man.

He believes, without reservation, Gandhi's philosophy:

"Hatred ever kills, love never dies. Such is the vast difference between the two. What is obtained by love is retained for all time. What is obtained by hatred proves a burden in reality, for it increases hatred. The duty of a human being is to diminish hatred and to promote love. . . . "

In a time of great materialism and pragmatic cynicism, it is somehow exciting to meet a man who believes that philosophy—and who has many times risked his life for it.

India

This is one reason it is so difficult to understand India. Its leaders are, for the most part, idealists who had the iron enter their souls in the long fight for independence. It is folly to expect them, in so brief a span of time, to accept completely the leadership of the West and to trust all our decisions.

India probably is the only country in the world where politics has a genuine base of morality. I asked Prime Minister Nehru what had been the chief impact of Gandhi.

"He gave to our politics a quality of morality which it will never lose," said the Prime Minister. "And sometimes," he added, with a wry smile, "it is very uncomfortable to have it."

It is uncomfortable. India would like to be a nation of philosophers, contributing wisdom to the world. She must engage in the great international struggle between communism and anti-communism. She joined in the UN action in Korea to the extent of voting the Communists aggressors. She refused to send troops. She carries on a harsh campaign against her domestic Communists, yet urges recognition of Red China.

She is fiercely democratic. We have had 150 years since our independence to resolve many things. Somehow my heart and confidence go with India whom, I believe, will last it out and endure on the foundation of morality left by Gandhi.

Storms Spread Damage Over State

Atlanta's first case of heat prostration was recorded Tuesday as sections of middle and north Georgia were hit by high winds and heavy rainstorms, with three twisters reported.

The heat victim, according to Ptl. D. C. Taylor and R. L. Rhodes, was C. R. Quattlebaum, 30, of 1553 Connally Ave., SW, Georgia Power Co. employe.

He was treated at Grady Hospital after he became ill while working in a hole five-feet deep at 1526 Moseley Dr., SW. He crawled from the hole and collapsed.

CLOUDS FORECAST

The Wednesday forecast for Atlanta was partly cloudy, not quite so hot, and chance of a thundershower in the afternoon.

The mercury was due to climb to a comparatively cool 96 degrees, after reaching a high Tuesday of 101 degrees, the hottest Aug. 17 on record, the weather bureau said.

2 p.m.	97	1 a.m.	76
3 p.m.	81

The Tuesday low was 74 degrees, and a low of 72 was forecast for Wednesday.

The mercury plunged 21 degrees in less than two hours in Atlanta when clouds, winds and rain moved into the area shortly after the peak temperature was registered at 1:20 p.m. Prior high for the date was 96.9 in 1952.

MINOR DAMAGE

Winds caused minor damage to power lines and circuits, which were repaired quickly, officials of the Georgia Power Co. said; trees were felled by the wind on Ogilvie drive, NE, and at 212 Springdale Dr., NE, and fire caused by lightning damaged a home at 983 Ferncliff Rd., NE.

DAMAGE HEAVY

A twister struck Baxley about 5 p.m., heavily damaging a tobacco warehouse and a wholesale grocery storage house. About a half mile section of the community was hit by the high winds which uprooted trees and damaged homes.

Savannah, a sudden localized storm with gusts up to 75 miles an hour struck Travis Municipal airport, damaging four planes and ripping 15 tents of the Air National Guard encampment. Roofs were blown off several buildings.

Ike, Defending Jones, Opens AEC Pact Files

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—A Democratic leader's hint of corruption at the White House level got a shrug and a snort from President Eisenhower today.

However, the President staunchly defended his friend, famed golfer Bobby Jones, against insinuations that he had any part in any questionable deal.

Stephen A. Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who had challenged an Atomic Energy Commission power contract ordered by the President, fired a second shot tonight. He said he was glad the President was willing to ha e all the facts disclosed, recited 10 questions he wanted answered, and said he welcomed and accepted Jones' statement that he had not discussed the contract with the President.

ALLEGATION

Mitchell's allegation, which set off the controversy, was this:

The President had ordered the AEC to award a power contract to the Dixon-Yates syndicate without competitive bidding; the power could have been procured from other sources a lot cheaper; Jones is a director of one of the two companies in the Dixon-Yates syndicate.

In Congress, Mitchell's scandal story was rejected by some leading Democrats as well as by the Republicans.

WRY SMILE

A bit of a wry smile crossed the President's face as he listened to the request for comment. He was obviously prepared and he began his answer calmly and slowly.

He knew when he went into political life, he said, that he would be subjected by many types of strange characters, to many kinds of innuendo and allegations.

In this case, he must say, he was a little astonished that any kind of such innuendo should include a private citizen of the character and standing of Bob Jones. He thought that there was no gentleman that he knows whose integrity and probity he was more certain of than Jones.

As to his own actions, he said he was not going to defend himself, as he had said time and time again. Of course, he ap-

Sheppard Indicted in Wife's Death, Rearrested After Being Free a Day

CLEVELAND, Aug. 17 (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was rearrested late today on a first degree murder indictment charging him with the July 4 killing of his wife, Marilyn, 31.

The 30-year-old osteopath, first jailed July 30, had been free on $50,000 bond since Monday morning—the only time in more than 20 years liberty on bail has been permitted here to someone accused of first degree murder.

Minutes after six men and nine women grand jurors indicted the handsome doctor in the clubbing of his pregnant wife, officers were on their way to his parents' home in suburban Bay Village to return him to a county jail cell. His lawyers were with him at the jail.

Common Pleas Judge Arthur H. Day, who announced the indictment, set an arraignment for Friday morning at 8:15 (EST).

The grand jury's indictment came after two full days of hearing testimony against Sheppard. He has denied the murder charge and has told police repeatedly that a bushy-haired intruder killed his wife and knocked him out when he was awakened by her moaning and ran to help her.

The grand jurors today listened to Miss Susan Hayes, who had done hospital work with Sheppard before she moved last winter from nearby Rocky River to Los Angeles.

Clad in a black cotton dress with a full skirt and wide white collar, the 24-year-old laboratory technician appeared at the Criminal Courts Building, spent about half an hour in the grand jury room, and departed, still unsmiling. She seemed nervous and frightened.

Investigators have cast her in the role of "the other woman."

She first denied a romance with the osteopath, and then signed a statement admitting intimacies. County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan announced recently.

Fleet Ready At Formosa, Ike Declares

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—President Eisenhower made it plain today that the United States Seventh Fleet would go into action to break up any Chinese Communist invasion of Formosa.

If the Communists started from the China mainland across the strait toward the Formosan island stronghold of the Chinese Nationalist, the President calmly observed, they would have to run over the Seventh Fleet.

Asked whether the United States might employ yet other forces in such an eventuality, he replied that there had been no discussion of that sort.

SPEAKS LACONICALLY

The President spoke laconically and only in answer to questions at his press conference.

Communist Chinese propaganda agencies, particularly the Peiping Radio, have been putting about suggestions that a "liberation" — meaning a seizure—of Formosa was in prospect.

Last Friday, the Nationalist premier in the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, O. K. Yui, retorted from Formosa that such Communist threats actually masked a Communist fear of a Nationalist invasion of the mainland.

RUMORS OF BUILDUP

There have been rumors of a Communist buildup of forces across from Formosa.

With all these factors in mind, a reporter asked what would happen if the Communist really made a try for it.

The President, in a casual way implying that he had supposed the answer to have been long obvious to everybody, recalled that early in 1953 he had reaffirmed existing orders to the fleet to guard Formosa from assault.

These orders, which were orginally put in by President Truman, still were in force today, Eisenhower said simply.

Thus, he went on, any invasion of Formosa would have to run over the Seventh Fleet.

Solons Vote It a Crime To Be Red

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Senate and the House, overruling Eisenhower administration objections, voted today to make it a crime for a person to be a Communist.

By a 41-39 vote in the Senate, the language making Communists subject to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine was written into a bill designed to deprive the Communist party of its legal rights.

Then the Senate passed the whole bill 81-1.

BURST OF SPEED

In an extraordinary burst of speed, the House promptly voted on a roll call 208-100 to accept the Senate verson. It did so in the face of an implied threat of presidential veto, expressed by Rep. Halleck (R-Ind).

A Congress bent on vacation affixed its final approval today on the administration's farm bill and on a measure opening the atomic power field to private industry.

The compromise farm bill—featuring flexible price props as desired by the administration—was adopted in the House by a standing vote of 2008-47.

Two of the bill's major features:

1. Authority to vary the supports for five "basic" crops—wheat, corn, cotton, rice and peanuts—from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity. At present they are supported at 90 per cent, and administration men contend this has helped pile up great surpluses.

2. Sanction for supporting dairy products at 75 per cent of parity. Secretary of Agriculture Benson had cut the props down to that level, from 90 per cent.

The atomic bill, subject of marathon debate recently, was in compromise form as it went to the President. A big row had raged over the question whether companies going into the atomic power field might have exclusive patents on atomic devices they develop, or would have to share them with other concerns.

The upshot was language saying the patents must be shared for the first five years, after which they will become exclusive.

The atomic bill, besides inviting

George Sets Goal of Full Drought Aid

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS
Constitution Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—Farmers of drought-stricken Georgia areas will be made eligible for production emergency loans pending further study, the Department of Agriculture said here today.

Meanwhile, Sen. George said tonight he was prepared to enter a vigorous protest with the administration if officials of the emergency drought program fail to declare sections of Georgia a disaster relief area.

"There are undoubtedly distress areas in the state where farmers' crops have been seriously injured or destroyed by drought conditions, and I am at loss to understand why these areas have not been so declared," he said.

"If the Department of Agriculture and the other agencies involved do not act within a reasonable time in giving full drought relief to farmers of the state, I shall file vigorous protests with the administration."

Frank Adamson of Jonesboro said following a conference with officials of the emergency drought program he had been authorized to announce Secretary of Agriculture Benson will sign an order by the end of this week making farmers in selected counties of the state available for the emergency loans.

Officials also told Adamson no final decision is expected for two weeks on formal requests by Gov. Talmadge and others to have Georgia declared a drought disaster area.

Others Quit; Gas Strike Spurs Dispute

Freight movement on three railroads halted suddenly Tuesday afternoon after an Atlanta Joint Terminal switching crew was suspended from service in a dispute over crossing a picket line at the Atlanta Gas Light Co.

Union Officials said all 23 switching crews at the terminal joined in a walkout in protest of the crew's suspension.

The Constitution learned that terminal officials notified all members of the crew to appear for formal investigation of the dispute at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

The switching crew refused to cross a picket line of workers at the gas company at 4 p.m. Monday. Terminal supervisory personnel completed the switching job.

WALKED OFF JOB

When terminal officials announced they were temporarily holding the crew out of service and ordering the investigation, the switching crew walked off the job.

The walkout stops freight service on the Georgia, the Atlanta & West Point, and the L & N railroads.

J. R. Ford, general chairman of the local Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said the three unions involved—trainmen, engineers and firemen—will be represented at the Wednesday morning hearing.

He said the union has no plans to negotiate with the company.

"COULD BE DANGEROUS"

The engineer of the crew which was suspended, who asked that his name be withheld, said the crew refused management's order to cross the picket line because "it could be dangerous."

"There's no telling what might happen when you cross a picket line—or what might happen later," he said. "You never know what's in a man's mind."

The engineer said the crews have refused to deliver goods to the gas company for the past nine days because of pickets.

"When we refused again," he said, "we were fired."

2 Killed, 3 Hurt In Hancock Car Collision

Constitution State News Service

SPARTA, Aug. 17 — Two persons were killed and three others seriously injured in an auto wreck Tuesday near Sparta in Hancock County.

Mrs. Paul A. Daniel of Thomaston and her 3-year-old daughter were killed when their car driven by Mr. Daniel was in collision with a car driven by William H. Smith of Clinton, S.C., according to the State Patrol. Trooper P. G. Burke said Smith is charged with driving while drunk.

Daniel and his 7-year-old son were seriously injured and were taken to a Greensboro hospital.

Smith also was hospitalized with a broken leg and other injuries.

fore microphones and cameras in Atlanta for 26 hours without a break, plugging his campaign and answering telephoned questions.

Gowen figured in a policy-split Tuesday of two jointly owned newspapers. The afternoon Columbus Ledger threw its editorial support to the Brunswick legislator, a few hours after the Columbus Enquirer, its sister paper, appeared on the streets with an editorial backing M. E. Thompson.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Fred Hand kept on punching at Thompson and Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin. He told a radio audience at Calhoun that both opponents have been involved in every "shady deal, political racket and shameful scandal" in Georgia politics during the past two decades. He said he is running as "the people's candidate—a man who isn't riding anybody's coattails." He repeated his pledge to dissolve political factionalism if he is elected governor.

Paris Won't Ease Stand --Mendes

Faces Critics Today at Parley

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS, Aug. 17 (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France will go to the Brussels conference tomorrow prepared to tell other European defense nations that his new European army plan is the only one acceptable to France.

He will accept amendments only if they are likely either to get more votes in the French Assembly or if they do not lose any he is counting on to get the European army treaty ratified.

AWARE OF CRITICS

Correspondents were able to learn that the Premier is fully aware of the criticism already voiced by other countries to his plan to cut down to nearly nothing the supranational character of the European Defense Community.

Holland, which has ratified the treaty, said the Mendes-France proposals "aim at scooping out" that part of the treaty which sets up a political commissariat with power to take major decisions on how best to defend Europe.

To this and other protests, the French Premier is prepared to answer that he wants to achieve four major goals in getting the treaty ratified:

1. To bind Germany in friendship to the West.

GERMAN PART

2. To get a German contribution to Western military defense.

3. To uphold the Adenauer government in Germany.

4. To start a European political organization.

The Premier has made a nose count of the National Assembly, as closely as he is able. His verdict, made known to correspondents, is that without the present amendments he now proposes, the treaty will be defeated by a vote somewhere near 290-260.

SEES MAJORITY

With the amendments, he calculates, correspondents were told, that he can get a constitutional majority—a majority of the whole Assembly. This would ride him over any difficulties in event the Council of The Republic voted against the revised treaty. The Council of The Republic is the French Senate, whose adverse vote can be overridden by the Assembly if it gets a clear majority of the whole membership.

The Premier was pictured as being confident that the five other premiers meeting with him in Brussls would take very seriously his warning that the basic elements of his revision of the treaty must be accepted or the treaty is lost.

Panel on McCarthy Picks Pa. Attorney

Hearings Still Scheduled On Senator for Aug. 30

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—S. Wallace Chadwick, Chester, Pa., attorney, today was named counsel of the special committee to weigh censure charegs against Sen. McCarthy.

Chairman Arthur V. Watkins announced Chadwick's appointment after a closed committee meeting.

Watkins said the committee satisfied itself that Chadwick, a Republican member of the House in the 80th Congress, had taken "no decided stand that would disqualify him" on the subject of McCarthy.

The Utah Republican also said the committee still plans to begin its hearings Aug. 30. But he said he would be more certain of that date after talking with Chadwick.

WILL NOT CHANGE

"It will not be changed except for good cause," he said.

He said Chadwick would assume his duties tomorrow.

Watkins said Chadwick was recommended by a member of Congress who remembered him from his 1946-48 service in the House.

Chadwick is 67, married, but has no children.

He is a member of the firm of Chadwick, Curran, Petrikin and Smithers in Chester, and served one term by appointment as judge of the Delaware County Orphans' Court.

STAFF BURDEN

Watkins told a hastily-summoned news conference in the Senate press gallery that Chadwick will be paid at the rate of $11,600 a year, the usual salary of Senate committee counsel.

He said Chadwick would carry the burden of staff work of the special six-man committee, but might require the services of assistant counsel and clerks. Some of the preliminary legal research on the 48 charges against McCarthy is being conducted by the staff of the Library of Congress.

Watkins said Chadwick, like any citizen, had heard and read of McCarthy.

"I assume he has had some fleeting notions about McCarthy," Watkins said, but he added that Chadwick had taken no stand that would bar him from serving.

WANTS IKE ANSWER

10 Questions Mitchell Poses on Dixon-Yates

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said tonight he is glad to hear President Eisenhower "is ready to make public the whole story behind the Dixon-Yates deal" and listed 10 questions he said should be answered.

Mitchell issued a formal statement in the aftermath of his charge yesterday that the Dixon-Yates syndicate was given a power contract on the President's personal order.

Text of Mitchell's 10 questions:

1. Who originated the Dixon-Yates proposal? When and under what circumstances?

ANY OTHERS?

2. Have any private power corporations, holding companies, combines or syndicates (not heretofore disclosed) been involved in any phase of this deal?

3. Were all the appropriate governmental agencies consulted by the administration? If any agency had reservations about this deal, what were they?

4. Why were not specifications prepared for inspection by potential bidders in accordance with customary governmental policy?

5. Did the government make any attempt to solicit competing bids so as to obtain better judgment, to enter into contract with a group personally picked by the President, to perform a construction job not directly related to the AEC's principal function?

6. Before issuing his directive, did the President seek the advice of the directors of the TVA? If so, did they recommend or object?

SWORN TESTIMONY

8. There had been sworn testimony that competition was suppressed in the selection of Dixon-Yates. In view of the express purpose of the administration that the Dixon-Yates award was made to further our competitive free enterprise system, why didn't the President thereupon cancel his Dixon-Yates directive and order open competitive bidding?

9. Why must the files of the budget bureau and the AEC be kept under lock and key for four days and four nights before they will be ready to be shown to the press? If the records are in order, why could they not be thrown open for inspection the minute the President's promise to make them public was made known officially to the budget bureau and the AEC?

10. Does this case set a precedent? Under the guise of fostering free enterprise, will it be government policy in the future to take existing functions away from existing federal agencies and transfer them to selected private business organizations, without competitive bidding, no matter how great the added cost to the public.

EDC Nations Rally Against Paris Scheme

PARIS, Aug. 17 (AP)—Bristling hostility to France's proposals for watering down the European army plan threatened tonight to defeat the project itself which is dependent on French ratification.

Urgent consultations were going on tonight in all the capitals concerned.

The Netherlands came out with forthright denunciation of the French scheme. Belgium, a standard-bearer for European unity, reacted coolly.

Prime Minister Churchill personally stepped in to assumed command of British moves in the clash over the project on which the United States had staked its European policy.

Candidates Ask DeKalb Referendum

By BERT SPENCER

A referendum on the best form of government for DeKalb County was espoused by eight DeKalb legislative candidates Tuesday night, but some disagreed on methods of holding the election and on motives for the stand.

The three candidates for DeKalb's single commissioner post also spoke, with some disagreement for a referendum. They were at a meeting of the Druid Hills Civic Assn.

Other issues discussed by candidates for three DeKalb posts in the Georgia House of Representatives and for the state senatorial posts from DeKalb, Newton and Gwinnett counties included retention of public schools, school financing problems, workers' compensation and the part that "slates" and "cliques" are playing in the races.

THREE MINUTES

Hurrying through the three minutes allotted each by the club, the candidates voiced their views in this order:

James A. Almand Sr., opposing incumbent representative Guy Rutland Jr., said he was in favor of a referendum and personally liked a three-man commission elected by districts. Almand said he was for internal organization of county government recommended in a recent study.

Rutland said he thought several public meetings should be held after the primary on the referendum question, that a vote on suggested forms of government be held early in 1955 and the legislators then should write a bill putting the preferred government into effect.

FREE VOICE

William Holley, opposing James A. Mackay for a House post being vacated by A. Mell Turner, said he was for giving people a "free voice" in selecting their form of government. He said it wasn't for the candidates to decide what type but for the people to make up their own minds first in forums and then in a referendum.

Mackay said the one major issue in the campaign is "a clear-cut referendum soon," on the choice between a one-commissioner and commission manager or commission executive form of government. He said it was up to the "determination and persistence of legislators" as to whether the people got the election.

Robert Farrar, opposing incumbent Rep. W. Hugh McWhorter, said he was not a member of a slate or a clique but would be an independent representative.

MORE THAN ONE

Bill Jessee, also running for McWhorter's post, said he was a member of a slate of candidates "because it will take more than one of us to fight the problems of DeKalb County." He said incumbents already had tried to force one type of government on the people and that his slate was together to insure a referendum.

McWhorter was not present, but Fred W. Carr, speaking for him said the incumbent also favors a referendum and sponsored the government study bill in the last session of the General Assembly.

Cullen M. Ward, seeking Turner's Senate post, told the audience to "look at the records (of the incumbents) and see if they are sincere in offering you a referendum." He said his slate, with Jessee and Almand, was definitely in favor of an early referendum. Ward said he also favors continuing public schools and increasing workers conpensation benefits.

Turner was not present at the meeting and no one represented him. A member of the audience explained that, as mayor of Decatur, he was presiding at a city commission meeting.

Incumbent county commissioner Scott Candler and candidates Wheat Williams and William G. McRae spoke in that bracket.

PLANE LOAD OF INSECTICIDE PREPARED FOR FLIGHT TO PAKISTAN
13 Tons of Atlanta-Made Bug Killer Will Combat Malaria Epidemic

Malaria Relief Leaves Dobbins for Pakistan

The insecticide, manufactured in Atlanta, will be used to combat mosquitoes and other insects that swarmed over East Pakistan on the heels of recent floods. An epidemic of malaria swept over the country after the insect invasion.

The plane, stocked with a large supply of rations, will make only four stops for re-fueling on the voyage of more than 9,000 miles. Stops are scheduled at the Azores, North Africa, Egypt and Saudia Arabia.

Capt. Walter L. Klatt Jr. of Corpus Christi, Tex., pilot and commander of both crews, said the plane is scheduled to land at East Pakistan at midnight Friday (Atlanta time).

The flight is being made in response to an urgent appeal from the American Embassy in Pakistan.

The government bought 20,000 pounds of Dieldrin (an insecticide) and 6,900 pounds of DDT dust for delousing from John Powell and Co. in Atlanta.

Vincent Russo, plant manager of John Powell and Co. said the Atlanta plant is one of about six in the country that manufactures the powerful insecticide requested by the American Embassy.

He said that DDT had been used in East Pakistan, but that it had not been adequate for control of the swarms of insects.

The Dieldrin, a "wetable" powder in 200 35-gallon drums, was loaded on the cargo ship during heavy rain Tuesday by Dobbins airmen.

Audio Expert To Speak at Dixie Parley

Scott N. Morrell, accustics expert, will be principal speaker at the Dixie Audio Festival scheduled at the Henry Grady Hotel Aug. 28-29. He will speak at 8 p.m. Saturday in the hotel ballroom.

Morrill is a member of the faculty of Ohio State University and serves as technical adviser to the Acoustic Laboratories of the Naval Air Training Station, Pensacola, Fla.

His talk will deal with problems involved in the reproduction of sound, including demonstrations of single and multi-channel equipment. Purpose of the meet is to acquaint the public with technical advances in home music reproduction systems.

Tickets may be had free from the Dixie Audio Festival Assn., 1145 Peachtree St., NE.

Pole Tagged Traitor For Fleeing to West

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 17 (AP)—Communist Poland's composers have put the "traitor" tag on Andrezej Panufnik, Polish musician who recently followed his British wife to Western freedom.

The Warsaw newspaper Zycie Warszawy reaching here said the Polish composers union has decided to kick Panufnik from its ranks as "A traitor to the Polish people."

Doyal Lashes at Millican At Private Hapeville Rally

A group of south Fulton citizens attended a private rally and fish fry Tuesday night and heard candidates for various state and county offices, including R. L. (Shorty) Doyal, who is opposing Everett Millican for the State Senate.

The event was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dameron, of 3278 Wheeler St., Hapeville, who hold similar rallies each election year "in the interest of good government."

Doyal called Millican "Hartsfield's senator" and accused the Atlanta newspapers of backing his opponent "because they're afraid for their liquor advertising."

Opponents of the candidates were absent with the exception of the county commission race. I. Gloer Hailey, Dr. Jack Norris and J. H. Aldredge were all present, and each attacked his opponents in caustic but good natured verbal crossfire.

The pattern of the speeches was set by Rex T. Reeves, Hapeville city attorney, who attacked city, county and Fulton's state officials for showing favoritism to Atlanta at the expense of the surrounding communities.

The candidates for representative—Ralph McClelland, Charlie Hamilton and Wilson Brooks—spoke briefly on their backgrounds and qualifications and promised "equal representation" for the outlying communities.

J. E. B. Stewart, candidate for commissioner of labor, Al Roberts, East Point mayor, J. H. Cawthon, president of the East Point Chamber of Commerce and J. G. Smith, president of the Fulton County Improvement League, also spoke.

TURN AROUND now and face the two most important facts about baldness.

Hair loss is progressive.
It usually starts with some common scalp condition like dandruff that should be corrected, but isn't. From then on, you lose your hair little by little—until you have little or no hair.

Hair loss can be stopped.
But not by "trying everything" you hear of or read about. By the time you're through, you'll have tried your way from here to baldness.

Try expert help — Voss Hair Experts help. And try it first instead of last, because the more hair you have when you start treatment, the more you can be sure of keeping.

Not that you must be content with just keeping the hair you have. That's the least to expect from Voss treatment and after-care. Your hair will look better, feel better, and GROW BETTER TOO.

Drop in to see George M. Voss tomorrow at your convenience. Ask him to examine your scalp. Talk it over with him. No obligation whatever.

States' Rights Due Drought Sufferers!

The Federal Government, observing established and bureaucratic yardstick regulations, is not yet able to lend disaster aid to Georgia farmers who are experiencing losses because of drought. There is worse suffering in other areas where it has not rained in years.

But, the Georgia disaster is real and acute.

It is being reflected in small towns already where merchants, largely dependent on farmer trade, are suffering. In time it will be felt in the larger ones.

The farmer is the mudsill of our prosperity.

Since that disaster is real and acute, why do not the states where farmers are suffering do something about it? Why does not Georgia, for example, one of the loudest voices in behalf of states' rights, do something for its suffering people? Are states' rights merely to be used at national conventions or do they have any real meaning?

Farmers can't eat states' rights if they are merely political words.

They can't feed, clothe or send their children to school and pay for it with states' rights.

The states where there is disaster have all called special sessions of the legislature for many petty reasons. Taxes have been raised for meaner reasons than aid to farmers.

Yet all that has been done in their behalf is to "ask Washington for help."

We can't go on talking out of both sides of our mouth. We can't damn Washington with charges of "interference" when it is a regulation or a control, and go hollering to Washington for a handout when we don't want to spend state money.

What's wrong with Georgia making an honest effort to help her own people—if she believes in states' rights and in her own people?

Don't Put a Leash On Traffic Engineer

Traffic engineering is no exact science. It can't be because it involves the element of human behavior. By that very fact, planning, in regard to signals, speed limits, etc., depends to a degree on trial and error.

That makes disturbing the word from the Atlanta City Hall that two aldermen seek to fence in Traffic Engineer Karl Bevins when it comes to regulating speed and parking on a trial basis.

Most of the decisions the traffic engineer makes are after consultation with the aldermanic police committee and the traffic commission. For the most part the changes in existing patterns are made only after general agreement among those groups and the merchants and residents in the area involved.

In some cases, the decision is not that of Mr. Bevins at all. Consider that section of Northside Drive, SW, or the West By-pass, where the speed limit was reduced recently from 35 miles an hour to 25 miles an hour. The 25-mile-an-hour limit is the legal limit set by ordinance. The traffic engineer insisted that the ceiling should be lifted to 35 miles an hour.

The change was made about a year ago. Recently the Police Department not only asked but demanded that the lawful speed on the section be cut back to 25 miles an hour. That is why Northside Drive, SW, is now posted 25 miles an hour. The police want it that way.

It is only natural that the average motorist or merchant thinks he could regulate traffic better than the traffic engineer. Most of the time, he is wrong. The traffic engineer is a specialist. He knows angles of the problem that the other fellow doesn't.

The traffic engineer needs leeway. In fact, the national trend is to subject his actions to city council review only when the volume of complaints so dictates.

Needlessly restricting the Atlanta traffic engineer in the performance of his duty would be throwing a roadblock in the way to a sensible handling of the city's traffic problems.

Our Dimes Will Assure Death Blow to Polio

Yesterday and today Fulton Countians are receiving 165,000 letters from the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They give the individuals to whom addressed an opportunity to contribute to the emergency March of Dimes drive.

The following week letters will go out to DeKalb Countians, giving them the same opportunity.

The word opportunity is used with a purpose. It is an opportunity to help deliver the death blow to epidemic poliomyelitis—an end that is in sight. The American people, through the March of Dimes, have brought that desirable reality near.

The National Foundation hesitated a long time before going before the country for funds for the second time within the year. It was made necessary because funds raised in the January drive did not make it possible to continue the all-out effort to develop the vaccine and gamma globulin programs and at the same time carry the patient aid load.

Meanwhile, the first child to die of polio this year passed away at Grady Hospital Monday. He was one of six to be admitted to Grady since Saturday with the disease. The treatment, care and years of rehabilitation ahead for most of them will be expensive and much beyond the means of the average family's income.

Infantile paralysis is an expensive, heart-rending disease.

In responding with funds to the letters being mailed them, Fulton and DeKalb citizens will be helping to assure continuing the all-out battle against polio. They will be helping, too, to speed up the conquest of a malady that might strike any of their homes at any time.

Bob Jones' Integrity Sheds Unwise Attack

The integrity of Robert T. Jones is so well known that the off-base comment concerning his connection with the Dixon-Yates atomic energy plant syndicate will slide off like water off the back of that legendary duck.

National Democratic Chairman Steve Mitchell, in denouncing the non-competitive, fiat origin of the contract to the private power syndicate selected to drive a salient into TVA territory, criticized President Eisenhower for Mr. Jones' connection with the syndicate.

This was uncalled for and unfortunate.

The chairman has a case in the real issue—that of ordering the contract into effect without competitive bidding. There was a strange and curious absence of the free competitive system in this act.

It is a fact that had Harry Truman taken such an action there would have been a loud blast from the Republican organizations and editorialists about the country. To set it up without competitive bidding deserves criticism and investigation.

A Suggested Epitaph For Candidate Griffin

The deeds men do die with them. But sometimes something they say lives on and on.

People today remember John Paul Jones as the man who said "we have just begun to fight." Who he was fighting and why doesn't matter much any more.

Winston Churchill's "blood, sweat and tears" will be fresh long after the mortal acts of that great man are nearly forgotten. And so it goes.

As yet Marvin Griffin hasn't said anything during this campaign that will outlive him. Even his "alien, carpetbag, foreign-owned press" is borrowed from another man.

Personally, Mr. Griffin is a polite and rather courtly man. If he had the gift of phrase making, if he could coin something memorable that would survive him, it would have a gracious ring. An oral bow from the waist, so to speak. Something like this for instance:

"Pardon me please, Governor Rivers, I was only trying to do my duty."

Popular British Consul Retires With Honors

John Campbell Thomson, British consul in Atlanta since 1951, has departed Atlanta as of last evening, en route to his home in Dunferline, Scotland. Having attained the age of retirement, Mr. Thomson decided to go back to his boyhood home for the rest of his years.

We, along with the many friends he has made here and in Georgia, trust those years will be many. He is, as they say, "a good man," with all the compliments bound up in the phrase applying to him in full measure.

He entered the British Civil Service at the early age of 15, leaving it during the first war to serve in the bitter fighting in France with the famous Black Watch regiment. In 1924 he was attached to the Embassy in Washington, serving there until 1946 when he became consul at Miami.

Later stationed at Jacksonville, he came to Atlanta in 1951. We shall miss him and we make bold to suggest that Her Majesty's Civil Service also will miss him since he gave to it devoted and able service.

There's Many a Slip, Twixt—

Harold Martin

Night's Best Sound: 'Hey Pop, I'm Home'

Maybe, as the years go on, and they grow older, you get used to it, and don't worry any more. There's nothing you can do, anyway, but just hope, and maybe pray a little, that nothing bad will happen, and that all the roads they travel will be safe and happy roads. But you can't help worrying a little, when they first start going out.

And you take a good long look at each new boy friend that comes for her, trying to size him up, trying to figure whether or not she's dating a steady, sober guy, or a wild haired character who thinks he's king of the hot rods and is likely to break somebody's neck. And you take a good hard look at your own young too, trying to figure how he's going to behave when he's out on his own, in the car, knowing that pretty soon some other father will be peering over his glasses, wondering about him.

And you feel pretty good about them all—yours and the others too, for they seem to be quiet and mannerly, more poised and level headed, probably, than their own Dad's were at their age—and surely more so than you were when you were seventeen, helling around in that Maxwell roadster, feeling like you were a combination of Barney Oldfield and Valentino rolled up in one package.

But somehow, no matter how nice and quiet and polite they are, or how sedately they drive away, you can't feel exactly easy in your mind. And every time you hear a siren squall in the night, you worry and wonder. It may be a fire engine, or a cop's car, chasing a bootlegger way over on North Side Drive. But to you it sounds like an ambulance, and you lie there in the bed, hoping the phone won't ring.

And you wake and doze a dozen times, turning to look at the face of the clock, glowing in the dark, listening to the little sounds of the silent house, waiting to hear the click of the latch, and the low murmur of voices at the door, saying goodbye. And the light still burns on the porch, and the clock hands move, and far off, toward Wesley, you hear the screech of tires on asphalt as somebody turns a corner too fast, and the little mouse of worry begins to gnaw.

And you doze again, half sleeping, half listening, until deep sleep finally takes you. Then, suddenly, a shadow moves in the room and from far away, it seems, a low voice speaks:

"Hey, Pop, I'm home."

And you come up from the depths of sleep like a man coming up from the depths of the sea, mumbling and snorting.

"Huh. Whozat? Oh. J'hava good time?"

"Uhhuh. Swell. G'night."

And the shadow moves away, down the hall and up the stairs, and the house falls silent and the world's all right. And you don't hear sirens crying in the dark anymore, nor the screech of tires on curves far off. You don't hear anything. You sleep deep and well content, once you know that all your brood are back in the nest again.

Marine Major Calls Hard Basic Training A Necessity To Cut Battlefield Casualties

Atlanta — Thanks sincerely to Harold Martin for his very fine articles upholding the necessity of hard military training. True, his treatment was frank and might understandably have offended parents unfamiliar with the facts of life on a battlefield. But when public sentiment tends to influence training designed to protect our homes and our people, facts should be told as he told them.

One day on Okinawa I saw a young Marine shot by Jap fire from the mouth of a cave. The platoon leader told a corporal, the senior NCO left alive, not to go near the cave while he got demolitions to blow the cave. But the corporal disobeyed and tried to rescue the fallen Marine, and he himself got his brains blown out.

Whose fault was it? I'll never believe it was the corporal's fault. Somewhere along the line of that kid's training, someone failed to teach him to take an order.

For many years as a Marine NCO and officer I have taught men to fight. My moral responsibility before God is to teach well; and if it's necessary to be hard and tough as it often is in order to teach well, I'm hard and tough. I never want a man to die because I failed to teach him.

If I fail, others will fail; and if others fail, our country and democracy will fail.

JAMES J. O'CONNELL,
Major, U.S. Marine Corps.

Detroit Milk Union Made a Wise Move

St. Louis, Mo.—Hats off to a Detroit AFL milk drivers and dairy employes union for withdrawing a demand for a 12 dollar a week wage increase in exchange for a three cents a quart reduction in milk prices by their companies!

Neither side expects to lose. The union men expect to make up for the loss of their wage demand by an increase in their sales as a result of the price cut, which in turn will add to the profits of the dairies.

More settlements like that by labor and management and most of our labor and economic troubles will be over

Farmers Are Irked By Drop in Prices

Bethlehem — A spokesman for Mr. Eisenhower says "He is irked by farmers in some sections asking for drought aid." That is plain language to say the least.

Also, we housewives are irked by the continued, upward cost of living expenses.

He and his associates are doing a fine job of playing Lord Bountiful to the rest of the world but we, here in the United States would appreciate more tolerance when we need help in our disasters and the crop situation, due to the dry weather is disastrous.

The Night Joe Passed the Buck

There was gamboling Monday night at Ponce de Leon Park. The police sat there and watched. The gamboleers were six or seven dancing girls, modern daughters of Terpsichore, one-time idol of the Ionian League. The dancers were draped after the Grecian mode in dyed cheese cloth of pastel shades. The robes were so cut as to reveal that the wearers had that attribute without which neither chorus girl nor ball player can get to first base—namely, good legs.

The girls gamboled around the pitcher's mound, baiting the infield with folding money. Joe Engel, the Phineas T. Barnum of Moccasin Bend, gamboled with them. He, too, had a bait bucket.

The ceremony was the Chattanooga showman's way of turning the 7th inning stretch into a reach for the long green. It was by way of introducing Cracker fans to "52-card pickup" with a payoff.

Here's how it works:

The ebullient Mr. Engel shouts "That's the ticket!" by way of inviting a spectator to go down to the field and gather in the sheaves, as many as he can in three minutes. The honoree can choose a partner, his wife or girl friend, to help him. Except Monday night it was a teenager who brought along a nimble-fingered friend of the same sex and stamina.

The two went after those greenbacks like a pair of homing pigeons turned loose in the corncrib after a nonstop Atlantic crossing. By the time the operator said, "Your three minutes are up," the boys had their hands full. Then the Lookouts and the Crackers and a couple of hundred civilians closed in for the gleanings. Within 15 seconds that field was as clean as a candidate's soul by his own admission.

"A tawdry exhibition," my friend in the stands said somberly. But then banking is his profession. He always cringes when he sees anyone handle money carelessly.

The greenback giveaway didn't break up the ball game. Dick Donovan had already done that with his bat. The night was hot and so were the Crackers. For 8½ innings neither cooled off appreciably.

HIGHLINES: Life was different in the old days. Back then, Grandma's nightcap went on her head instead of to it.—H. H. Wind in the Cairo Messenger.

Unity Is Achieved By Giving of Self

I have been talking about the inner conflicts of man which are one cause of man's deep sense of guilt. A man came to me in a very unhappy state. I asked his trouble and he said "I have gotten off the track." What did he mean by that? He felt a pull toward the higher life and his conscience demanded that he move in that direction.

Some feelings of guilt come not from any conscious wrongdoing, but rather because of failure to "fight the good fight."

The answer for those torn inside by higher and lower impulses is not so much repentance and forgiveness which I will later discuss in connection with another type of guilt, but rather is the answer inner unity through consecration. Put two horses in a pasture and each will go his own way by himself. But hitch those same two horses to a load to pull and they walk shoulder to shoulder without conflict.

So with the inner natures of man. Having no great life consecration, man becomes disunited and at war with himself. But when he finds something to which he can completely give himself, his inner conflicts are resolved.

At 45, Lincoln was a disappointed failure. In Robert Sherwood's play Lincoln says, "You talk about civil war—there seems to be one going on inside me all the time . . . it says in the Bible that a house divided against itself cannot stand, so I reckon there's not much hope. One of these days I'll just split asunder, and part company with myself."

But Lincoln did not "split asunder." Instead, he found a great cause to which he gave himself completely and in so doing he became organized and unified.

The inscription on the statue of Robert E. Lee in the Hall of Fame reads: "Duty then is the sublimest word in our language. Do your duty in all things. You cannot do more. You should never do less."

St. Paul looks inside himself and cries, "O wretched man that I am." (Romans 7:24). Then he looks outward and upward and said, "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me." (Phil. 4:13). And finally he triumphantly declares, "I have fought a good fight." (2 Tim. 4:7).

Down in the hogpen the prodigal son was saved when he saw himself as a son with a father and a home and gave himself to that higher vision.

"He that loseth his life for my sake," said Jesus. That is, when you quit fighting with yourself and become inwardly organized through consecration to Him who is the greatest, then do you find life. No man can serve God and mammon. And no person is happy until he answers the prophet of old, "Choose ye this day whom you will serve."

Air Force Becomes Key To Continental Defense Net

In the Christian Science Monitor

WASHINGTON—Defense of the North American continent becomes, as of September, a United States Air Force mission. The Air Force, working jointly with Canada, will control and direct all air defense activities, including Army and Navy participating forces.

Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw of the Air Force, who will be the theater commander, will direct a weapons system in the air, at sea, and on the land that will stretch from the rock ridges along the polar approaches all the way to the Rio Grande on the Mexican border and beyond to the Panama Canal and its Caribbean defenses.

General Chidlaw's command will centralize a complex weapons system now slowly being fashioned. This includes a tribelt chain of radar stations across northern Canada, some 25 wings of all-purpose jet fighters, installations of the Army's missile NIKE (designed as the final phase in defense for American cities), and various types of naval vessels guarding ocean approaches.

Slowly the continental defense program, which for several years has been the cause of prolonged contention within the Air Force and the government and has been sparingly but severely criticized in public, is now being organized.

It would be almost impossible to find a responsible official in Washington who would not agree it is not a moment too soon.

The purpose of the single command program is to provide an over-all defense system under a single executive authority, in the same way that theater commands are organized for the United States and its allies overseas.

It is a mutual program in which Canada provides the buffer territory where the radar warning networks will be established and the areas for air bases, while the United States provides the bulk of the equipment, manpower, and money. The Canadian contribution to this program, which is very substantial, has not been told to the American people yet.

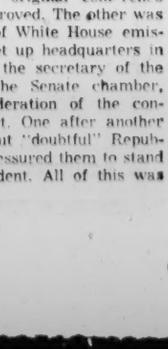

When the whole program is established in weapons, in aircraft, in radar networks, and in command, together with the Canadian interlocking forces, the United States and Canada will have one of the most remarkable systems that any military force has ever known. The continent will be tied securely into an instantaneous communications system, both visual and oral.

Much of it will be automatic, and most of it will be as intricate and sensitive as the transcontinental telephone dialing system which is now coming into use.

In the early attempts to awaken the nation to the need for an air defense program, there was much opposition by the Strategic Air Command of the Air Force to the program now being established. In the ensuing years, the Soviet Union has been building a stronger and more far-reaching Air Force of its own, capable, as President Eisenhower has said, of reaching the United States with atomic bombs.

This has ended SAC's early opposition. One of General Chidlaw's primary duties, perhaps his first primary duty, will be to defend the bomber bases of SAC scattered across the North American continental area from Thule, in northern Greenland, to Texas.

Sen. George Votes For Little People

WASHINGTON—One of the intended "victims" of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in his primary campaign attempt back in 1938 to eliminate conservative Democrats who had bucked some pet New Deal objectives was Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia.

Senator George is still around, very much so. If Franklin D. Roosevelt could come back today and sit in the Senate gallery and listen to the venerable Georgian, now 76, and watch how he votes, he would rub his eyes, gulp, and then apologize.

For Senator George has stood forth as the champion of the rank and file citizen on some important issues against what he now calls frankly — and quite naturally — "powerful vested interests." These issues include two of the biggest in the 83rd Congress — the tax bill and the atomic energy measure. When he warns against the activities of "powerful vested interests" he knows whereof he speaks — and his Senate colleagues know that.

Only a few minutes after the jubilant ceremony at the White House when the President signed the tax bill into law on Monday, the Georgia senator rose in his place in the Senate to dispute that the measure was the "great accomplishment" that it was being called by the President, Secretary of Treasury Humphrey, and, as the senator put it, "many of my friends in Congress." He deplored once again the failure of the bill to help the average taxpayer by an increase in personal exemptions which he had sought in vain in the Senate, while it made special provision for "the recipients" of dividends. He approved generally what the tax bill contained, but said it did not go far enough to benefit the mass of taxpayers, and thus it is not a balanced law, but weighted in favor of a few.

In many ways, the senator's attitude on the atomic energy bill is more startling than his position on the tax bill, that is, to anyone familiar with his long career. For many years he was most favorable in his voting record to the private electric utilities, with special concern for the Georgia Power Co. that is so potent politically in his home state.

Senator George put the issues in the atomic energy bill in perspective when, on announcing he would vote to send it back again to conference, he said to the Senate:

"In this case, Mr. President, I shall regard this as the most important vote I shall cast at this session of Congress, and perhaps the most important vote I have ever cast."

How heavy a blow the Senate dealt the administration may be inferred from two circumstances. One was a special letter that President Eisenhower dispatched asking that the original conference report be approved. The other was the activity of White House emissaries who set up headquarters in the office of the secretary of the Senate, off the Senate chamber, during consideration of the conference report. One after another they called out "doubtful" Republicans and pressured them to stand by the President. All of this was unavailing.

Ike Defends Jones, Opens Record On Dixon-Yates Power Contract

proved the recommendations for their action, and every single official action he takes involving the contractural relationships of the United States with anybody, except when national security is directly involved, is open to the public.

Still cool, but in firmer voice, he said any one present may, singly or in an investigation group, go to the Bureau of the Budget, to the chief of the Atomic Energy Commission, and get the complete record from the inception of the idea to this very minute, and it is all theirs. That was all he had to say about it.

IMPLIED PROMISE

At the AFC, a press officer made an implied promise to make the data available but said it would take a little time. All the commission knew of the President's press conference remarks up to that moment, he said, were wire service dispatches.

After the President's news conference, the Democratic National Committee issued a statement by Mitchell. He said:

"There were bound to be suspicious about this multi-million-dollar give-away as long as the administration failed to disclose how it originated and developed. If my remarks inspired the President to shed some new light on this deal, they will have served a useful purpose."

"SPECIFICATIONS"

The Democratic chairman asked, among other things, "Why were no specifications prepared for inspection by potential bidders in accordance with customary governmental policy?"

Also, "Why did the President direct the AEC, an independent agency, against its better judgment, to enter into contracts with a group, personally picked by the President, to perform a construction job not directly related to the AEC's principal function?"

The phrase "against its better judgment" apparently referred to a majority vote of the commission against awarding such a contract. The President, at a recent news conference, said he had not been aware of such a vote.

CONTRACT NOT SIGNED

The disputed power contract between the commission and a private syndicate composed of two established utility companies was authorized by the revised atomic energy bill, which passed the Senate last night. No final contract has been signed.

PRAISES JONES
Sen. George

The syndicate is known as the Dixon-Yates group, after E. H. Dixon, president of Middle South Utilities, Inc., and E. A. Yates, chairman of the Southern Co. Bobby Jones is a director of the Southern Co.

Mitchell, in his original assertions in Chicago last night, said a competing syndicate offered to provide the power for $90,000,000 less than the Dixon-Yates group, and that the TVA would provide the power for $140,000,000 less.

MITCHELL CHALLENGED

Senate GOP Leader Knowland (Cal) blasted Mitchell and challenged him to back up his assertions.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said in a statement that he thought Mitchell "grossly overestimated the additional cost of this (Dixon-Yates) plant to the government." He said the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee would have a look at the contract before it becomes effective.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he thinks "the President is wrong in his views on the Dixon-Yates contract, but I wouldn't attribute that to any influence from Mr. Jones. I do not think that he would try to influence the President."

Sen. George (D-Ga) said he knew Bobby Jones, his father, and his grandfather, that Jones has a high regard for the President and is "incapable of asserting himself with the President in any matter in which he has a personal interest."

Winds, Rain Batter State

out several display windows in the downtown area, lightning struck a house and power service was disrupted.

A twister south of Augusta, which, with Athens, Tuesday had a high of 103 degrees, carried J. L. Messer, 19, more than 50 feet before dropping him unhurt.

The twister did damage estimated at $10,000 to his family's commercial garage building and their home next door, buckling walls and lifting roofs.

North Georgia rivers were showing effects of the long dry spell with the Chattahoochee at Norcross down to 1.6 feet, while the water was so low at Chattahoochee, Ga., it failed to register on the river guage.

Crops have been burned up over the state.

Milledgeville reported more than a half inch of rain accompanied by high winds and lightning. Telephone lines and power cables were damaged.

Atomic Bill Sent to Ike; Red Members Banned

private industry into the nuclear business, gives a clear preference for rural cooperatives and public bodies in the purchase of atomic power—and provides for sharing some atomic information with friendly nations.

Despite administration pleadings that making Communist membership a crime would drive the Reds underground and play hob with existing control laws, the Senate was insistent.

The provision making Communists subject to prosecution was approved as an amendment to a bill to strip the Communist Party of its legal status—a bill acceptable to the administration.

Then the amended measure was passed and sent to the House. That chamber, in a surprise move, instructed its conferees to accept the Senate language in a Senate-House conference.

Thus the measure did not go immediately to the White House, and there was some belief that it might be lost in the adjournment rush.

Other congressional events:

1. The Senate passed an administration bill to extend the unemployment compensation system to four million more workers. The bill goes to the House for action on Senate amendments.

2. The Senate passed a $175 million bill authorizing military housing at home and abroad. It goes to the House for final action.

added support of State Highway Board Chairman Jim L. Gillis to his campaign program after he found it was popular.

Griffin Monday night had praised Gillis and board members Dixon Oxford and John Quillian and said he hoped the Legislature would re-elect them.

"Even before I qualified . . ." Hand said, "I publicly stated that I would recommend that the General Assembly re-elect Mr. Jim Gillis and leave the State Highway Board as it is.

"Heretofore, Marvin's supporters have been saying that he intends to fire Mr. Gillis and the whole Highway Board if he is elected. Now Marvin is desperate."

Hand also promised steps to prevent or alleviate future droughts. He said he is no "water expert" but that he knows the problem "is more pressing today than the problem of good roads was 30 years ago." He said he would tackle the problem first by a statewide study of water resources.

Speaking in Barnesville, Thompson said he is confident of victory and is keeping clear of slinging mud at his opponents.

In Newnan, Griffin appeared to be reversing his tactics as he eased his fierce attacks against Thompson. He concentrated on his own platform, barely mentioning the former acting governor.

He did, however, bear down on his charges against Atlanta newspapers, declaring that they have refused to take a stand on segregation.

CHALLENGES FITNESS

Candidate Ben Garland—who calls himself the "anti-vice candidate"—said Tuesday that if some of the "big money" candidates are firmly allied with the liquor interests as charged, they are not fit to be governor.

Mrs. Grace Thomas, only woman in the race, swung toward Newnan, LaGrange and Columbus Tuesday after taking her campaign to Rome Monday.

State Revenue Agent Faces U.S. Charge

A state revenue agent, a Whitesburg businessman and his two brothers Wednesday morning will face charges of conspiring to violate federal revenue laws, a federal investigator said Tuesday.

Roy B. Neill, veteran state revenue agent, and Ralph B. Carnes, Whitesburg storekeeper, are scheduled to answer complaints filed against them by Thomas Pruett, federal investigator for the Internal Revenue Department.

The hearing will be held before U. S. Commissioner Walter Sanders in Newnan at 10 a.m. Wednesday. Others named in the charges are J. B. Carnes and Richard Lamar Carnes, brothers of Ralph Carnes. They are residents of Carroll County.

In a separate complaint, Ralph Carnes is charged with threatening witnesses in an effort to prevent the due administration of the law, according to Pruett, who said he has been compiling evidence against the group for the past several months.

Pruett said department regulations prevented him from commenting any further on the case.

Officials of the State Revenue Department said they were not aware that the federal government was working on the case until Monday.

"We are going to have a representative in Newnan to find out just what the case is all about," the official said.

Two city humane department workers carry the deer from the store. It was released on the town's outskirts.

Cave, 4,430 Feet Deep Is Reported in Alps

NICE, France, Aug. 17 (AP)—French cave explorers today reported discovering the deepest known natural cave in the world in the French-Italian near the Mediterranean Sea. They said it's about 4,430 feet deep.

The cave opens on the side of Mont Marguaris, 8,202 feet above sea level, making it the highest so far discovered, they said.

Pope Permits Rites in English in U.S.

By ARNALDO CORTESI
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

ROME, AUG. 17—The Vatican, through the Sacred Congregation of Rites, has granted clergy in the United States the optional right to administer the sacraments of matrimony, baptism and extreme unction in English.

This concession, which was said in Rome to be proof of the Pope's particular goodwill to the United States, was granted at the request of the American Episcopacy. It applies only to the territory of the United States and not to other English-speaking countries such as Canada.

Similar concessions have so far been made, apart from mission-ary areas, to only three countries, France, Germany and Italy. In 1941 and 1942 they were made also to missions in New Guinea, China, Japan, Indochina, India and Africa, which were granted permission to translate the Roman ritual into their local languages, reserving Latin for only a few essential formulas. In 1949, moreover, the use of Mandarin Chinese was permitted in China for the whole of mass except the canon, which must continue to be recited in Latin.

In Vatican circles it was pointed out that the Catholic Church has in practice often shown an accommodating spirit where the liturgical use of modern languages was concerned, but that it always adhered to three fundamental principles. These are: First, that the use, and even the exclusive use, in liturgy of languages incomprehensible to all or many of the faithful is not an error; second, that the language used in liturgy should never become the vehicle for the expression of political or nationalistic passions but should, on the contrary, be a supranational bond between Catholic communities, even if they belong to different racial groups, and between Catholic communities and the Holy See; third, a special dignity and appropriateness for liturgical purposes is recognized to the ancient languages that, even if more or less dead today, have been consecrated by centuries of liturgical use.

Buick's biggest hit brings you a 3-way bonus

1. You get the car that's in step with tomorrow

From stem to stern, Buick today is styled a year ahead—with long, low glamor lines, with the very look of tomorrow, and with that broad panoramic windshield that many other cars won't have till 1955. Equally important, you get in Buick advanced V8 power, big room, luxurious comfort, the famed Million Dollar Ride—and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Is it any wonder, then, that Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three"?

2. You get the car that's a sure high resale value

Buicks have always had a high trade-in value. But the 1954 Buick has an extra advantage in its year-ahead styling. That means your Buick will stay well up in the style parade for years to come—will stay fresh and new-looking well into the future. So you're bound to be way ahead in actual dollars when trade-in time comes.

3. You get a bigger allowance from our volume business

Every month's sales figures this year have firmed this fact: Buick sales are soaring; Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation, regardless of price range, except two of the "low-price three." So with this tremendous volume, we can—and do—offer higher trade-in allowances. Come in, see and drive a new Buick—then check for yourself that our volume business really does mean a far bigger allowance for you.

Come see for yourself why— Buick Sales are Soaring!

DeKalb Schools Set Co-Op Plan

A Diversified Co-operative Training program, which eventually will be used in all high schools in DeKalb County, will be introduced in Avondale High School when school begins next month, it was announced by James Cherry, superintendent of schools in DeKalb County.

The new program will permit junior and senior students to participate in a part-time work and study program and will be designed to prepare students for employment in occupations of their choice.

The DCT program will be geared to keep the school system abreast of the rapid strides that have been made in the growth of business and industry in the county during the past few years, and it is hoped that it will give the county businesses a better selection of personnel in terms of job requirements and individual differences.

Students participating in the new program will arrange their school schedule so their time may be divided between scholastic work and part-time paid jobs, spending approximately half of the regular day in each capacity.

Student credit will be given for supervised work experiences and for related instruction. The two-year course will earn the student four unit credits toward graduation. The program is limited to junior and senior students.

Job time will be devoted to performing tasks normally assigned to new workers in the occupation. Employer-trainers and the school coordinators will supervise the job training.

J. H. Cooley, until last June a member of the Jordon High School Vocational Staff at Columbus, has been named coordinator of the DCT program. He will be located at the Avondale school.

Cooley has a bachelors and a masters degree from the University of Georgia and has completed graduate work at Auburn and Florida State universities.

RED DEVIL'S DEN

Druid Hills Teen-Agers Throng Hub

It's a fact that the youngsters of Druid Hills are going in droves to the Red Devil's Den.

This particular den is one of metropolitan Atlanta's most active teen-age clubs, crowded to the limit every night, it's open with boys and girls enjoying good fun.

It all started about the time school was out this spring, when the Druid Hills Civic Assn., the PTA and the Lions Club spearheaded a move for community activities.

The first night the Den was open, eight chapersons and one boy showed up, but since then the sponsors have been overwhelmed by the crowds that have arrived regularly on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights at the basement of the Druid Hills High School gym.

Favorite activities for teen-agers have been provided for under one roof, with many choices of games as well as just sitting and talking. There's a big dance floor with the latest records on the jukebox, and booths for a game of cards or just sitting around and nibbbling on refreshments.

POOL AND PING-PONG

On the other side of the Den is a pool table, where youngsters line up hours ahead of time for a brief allotted time to play, and four ping-pong tables that are kept busy continuously.

Along the walls are pinball machines for the former drugstore cowboys, but they don't take any money. It's all a game of fun.

The Den has really become habit-forming, the youngsters say. They even kept coming on sweltering evenings early this summer when the heat made the basement center seem just like a real Red Devil's Den. But the civic association and the PTA bought and installed huge fans to help the youngsters beat the heat.

COMMUNITY ACTIVITY

So many persons have aided and worked with the project that it is really a community activity, but a few of the more diligent workers include Ben Wiseberg and Chilly Chilton, who have been at the club almost every evening it's been open; Mrs. A. D. Boylston, head of a civic association committee to promote a community center; Mrs. Marcus Bartlett and Mrs. Ross Henley, of the PTA, and Shelton Goble, principal of Druid Hills.

The eventual aim, according to Mrs. Boylston, is the construction of a real community center for Druid Hills residents with activities for all age groups.

Time Payment

SINGAPORE (AP)—Tan-Hong Nam, former proprietor of a biscuit factory, who owed his creditors $14,301, was ordered by the Singapore High Court to pay at the rate of $5 monthly.

On that basis, he'll be free of debt in around 240 years.

ORDERED HELD IN WHEEL-CHAIR SHOOTING
Joe Spivey, Restaurant Owner, Forgiven

Target Forgives Cafeman In Wheel-chair Shooting

By KEELER McCARTNEY

Despite a plea from the man at whom he is charged with emptying a pistol, a partially paralyzed restaurant operator Tuesday was ordered held under $200 bond for the Fulton County Grand Jury on charges of shooting at another.

Thomas Brownlee of 156 Rawson St., SW, who, police said, was the target of the shooting Aug. 5 in a Memorial Drive, SE, grocery store parking lot, rolled the restaurant operator, Joe Spivey, 25, into Municipal Court in a wheelchair.

Detectives M. W. Blackwell and M. A. Johnson said Spivey became enraged because he saw Brownlee walking down the street with a girl. Later, detectives said, Spivey noticed Brownlee in the parking lot of a grocery store across the street from 72 Memorial Dr., SE, and emptied a .22-caliber pistol at him.

RIPPED INTO AUTO

Two of the bullets ripped into an auto beside which Detectives R. L. Shutley and M. V. Moss and two Army investigators were standing, Blackwell and Johnson said. Another nicked a bystander in the finger. Three others struck autos.

"Your honor," Brownlee told Judge James Webb, "I don't know whether he was shooting at me or not.

"I saw him on the sidewalk in the wheelchair and then I saw the gun and heard the shots begin. I went to running and I didn't look back. I don't know if he was shooting at me or not."

After the incident was over, Brownlee said he came to City Jail and posted bond for Spivey, who was being held on three disorderly conduct charges. He told the court he carried Spivey to the Rawson street address, where both of them live, carried him upstairs in his arms and put him to bed.

CARED FOR HIM

"I guess he got mad from having to sit there in the wheelchair all time," Brownlee said. "I would. But I ain't mad at him—never was. Why, I've cared for him like a baby since he was hurt in a car wreck two years ago."

Attorneys for Spivey said the restaurant operator was paralyzed from the waist down in the wreck and was unable to leave the wheelchair without help.

TV Here Drums Up Monkey Business

John H. Barfield, 15, of 716 Ponders Ave., NW, raised the question Tuesday. John, a student at O'Keefe High School, glanced at the family television set.

John summoned other members of his family.

Then he called police.

Ptl. S. A. Best and D. Fuller captured the monkey and turned it in at the Grant Park Zoo.

Smoke Is All Wet

CONWAY, S.C. (AP)—Farmer J. W. Hewitt saw smoke rise from his roof after an airplane zoomed by. He grabbed a garden hose but found the water produced only more smoke. He soon discovered dry ice on the roof. He realized then that a rain maker was at work. There was a good rain that night.

Fulton Offers Early Trials, Survey Finds

A study of 97 courts in 48 states by the Institute of Judicial Administration, New York University, shows cases are brought to trial within an average of 4.5 months after filing, and non-jury trials within 1.5 months.

The American Judicature Society of the American Bar Assn. reported the Fulton Court offered trial within four to five months.

The four-month delay, however, represents the legal requirements for filing of answers and stipulation of cases for trial, Charlie Paschal, chief clerk of Superior Court, said. Paschal added the court is now caught up and any case filed on or before May 1 is eligible to go on the September trial list.

Some 2,440 cases have been filed since the court began its summer recess July 1, he added.

Delays up to 49 months were reported in some cities. The longest delays found in the study were Queens County, N. Y., 49 months; Kings County, N. Y., 45; Worcester, Mass., 42; Cook County, Ill., 36, and Bronx County, N. Y., 36.

Red Oak Fire District Protection Talk Listed

By BOB WILLIMON

Fire protection for the Red Oak district will be discussed at a meeting of the College Park City Council at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, with residents of the area and A. E. Fuller, Fulton County manager, expected to attend.

Under a resolution passed Aug. 4 by the Fulton County Commission establishing the fire district, Red Oak citizens would deposit $250 with county officials to guarantee payment of $50 to the College Park Fire Department for each call to the area, J. B. Eley, College Park fire chief, pointed out.

However, he indicated Tuesday that College Park's equipment is barely sufficient to serve that community, and the added burden of servicing the Red Oak district may jeopardize fire safety in College Park.

The Red Oak fire district extends from the College Park city limits to the Fayette County line, from the Flat Shoals road to Union City limits, along the Atlanta limit line to the city limits of East Point, and then back to the limits of College Park.

East Point Okays Unit On Parking

Formation of a five-member parking commission has been authorized by the East Point City Council.

The commission, as proposed by City Atty. Ezra Phillips and approved at council meeting Monday, will formulate a "master plan" for off-street, city-operated parking lots, and oversee establishment and operation of the lots.

Members of the commission, who have not as yet been named, will serve five-year terms staggered so that an incumbent will be dropped and a new commissioner appointed each January.

OPTIONS AUTHORIZED

The commission will be authorized to take six-month options on likely sites for lots at a cost of not more than $100 per option—the total investment in such options outstanding at any one time not to exceed $1,000.

Commissioners must have lived in East Point three years, and must not have an interest in parking from a commercial standpoint.

Plans approved for the commission resulted from a recent meeting of the traffic committees of both the council and the East Point Chamber of Commerce.

EXPANSION KEY

The chamber has long advocated off-street parking as the key to the city's economic expansion.

Financing of the lots will be provided by revenue anticipation certificates to be issued under provisions of an act of the Legislature providing for public parking lots and buildings.

According to sponsors of the plan, the lots will provide for both all-day and meter-plan parking.

Under-Stars Theater Is Over the Top

Atlanta's Municipal Theater-Under-the-Stars ended its successful 1954 season "in the black" and will soon launch a program to secure guarantors for an expanded 1955 season, Maurice B. Seltzer, president, announced Tuesday at a meeting of the organization's advisory board.

Seltzer said final figures on the 1954 season had not been compiled.

The board voted Tuesday to renew the contractor of Eric Mattson as managing director of the Municipal Theater-Under-the-Stars. Mattson will direct next year's series of outdoor musical presentations in Chastain Park. The 1955 season "definitely will be longer, perhaps an eight-week season," board spokesmen reported.

Peter J. Stelling, vice president of the organization, introduced Mattson to the board at the meeting at the Capital City Club. Mattson told members his work with the group this summer had been "the most pleasant theatrical experience of my life."

Drop Manganese Duty

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Indian government said tonight it is abolishing the export duty on manganese ore, effective immediately, to improve its competitive position in the international markets.

College Park Paving

Paving has been authorized by the College Park City Council for Erskine, Floyd and Robert avenues, and portions of Anderson, South Lee and Pine streets and East Gaines avenue.

New Firemen Listed

James R. Moody and Eugene C. Hammond, high scorers in a recent examination, have been elected to the East Point Fire Department by the East Point City Council.

They will begin duties on a six-month probationary basis within the next 15 days, Max Wiggins, fire chief, said.

The chief said Moody and Hammond are the first of 10 men the department will employ between now and January to staff adequately the new Fourth Ward station to be completed this year.

GMA Adds Teachers

Five new teachers have been appointed to the faculty of Georgia Military Academy, it was announced Tuesday by Col. William R. Brewster, commandant.

The teachers and their subjects are: Capt. John H. Park, English and modern languages; Capt. Joseph Parham, English and social studies; Capt. Frederick Cook, senior English; Capt. Herbert R. Hollifield, physical education, and Capt. Charles H. Davis, grades one through seven.

Lions Plan Picnic

A picnic supper highlighting the East Point Lions Club's annual "Family Night" program will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday at Sumner Park, it was announced Tuesday by the Rev. George H. Smith, publicity chairman.

Kerfoot McKinnon, program chairman, said games and contests will be staged in the park gym following the picnic supper.

The club plans a barbecue Sept. 25, a broom sale Oct. 4-8 and a football game in October or November.

Sumner Park Aids

Acting on a motion by Otis Stephens, Second Ward councilman, the East Point City Council has approved expenditure of $2,200 for fence and lighting for the athletic field at Sumner Park.

Council also has voted to award $34,519, in contracts for paving portions of DeLowe, Winburn and Headland drives.

Improvement League Lists Solon Choice

The Fulton County Improvement League will support Wilson Brooks and Ralph McClelland Jr. in their bids for election to the state legislature.

The league, a political group opposing incumbent Fulton representatives, announced its decision at a general meeting of the group at the East Point city auditorium.

J. G. Stith, general chairman of the organization, said the candidates endorsed will not be asked for "any special favors, but will be expected to adhere to their guarantee of unbiased, county-wide representation if elected."

The two candidates will receive benefit of a league-sponsored advertising campaign to cost upwards of $5,000.

Jake Cawthon, finance chairman of the East Point unit, said members have accepted fund quotas totaling over $6,000. The unit's goal, he added, is $1 for each registered voter.

Stith said offices and conference rooms for league use during the campaign are being opened at 912 N. Main St., College Park.

POPS SOLOISTS RELAX AT CHASTAIN PARK
Soprano Barbara Nunn Howell, Tenor Bob Moulson

Pops To Close Season In Mammoth Concert

Atlanta's Pops Orchestra will close out its summer season Friday night with a mammoth concert featuring 150 persons at Chastain Memorial Amphitheater.

The concert will feature everything from pop tunes to classics and will include several soloists.

Proposed by Mayor Hartsfield, the musical has been planned to "afford a greater number of Atlantans a chance to hear the Pops in action." Last year a similar concert in Augusta attracted a capacity crowd of 9,000 persons to the outdoor arena.

Albert Coleman, originator and director of the Pops, said in addition to the regular 50-member Pops Orchestra, a special section composed of 50 of the top brass instrumentalists from Atlanta and elementary and high schools will join the orchestra.

STARRING ROLES

In starring roles will be Barbara Nunn Howell and Bob Moulson. Moulson, a 230-pound football tackle, gave up a promising football career and a scholarship to Auburn to accept a musical scholarship at the University of Georgia. Miss Howell, a lyric soprano, played the ingenue lead in the original Broadway company of "Song of Norway."

The two singers will be heard in the first act love duet from "La Boheme."

The Orchestra will play several orchestrations of Marion Evans, one of New York's top arrangers, formerly with Tommy Dorsey, vocalist Pattie Page and Tex Beneke. Evans' arrangements include a fugue on "Dixie," "Donkey Serenade" and Jackie Gleason's original ballet "Tawny." Evans wrote the arrangements especially for the Atlanta presentation.

Dewey Bergman, one of the directors of a new recording firm, will be present to hear the first presentation of his composition "Your Horoscope in Music."

MEDLEY

Musical highlights of the concert will include two production numbers which were hits at the recently completed Pops series. The first is a spirited South American medley of "Cubamba," "Tropicana," and "Granada" by Monty Kelly. It will feature internationally known guitarist Perry Bechtel.

Bob Van Camp will offer his version of Leroy Anderson's "The Typewriter," which was a show-stopper earlier in the Pops season.

The concert will spotlight Jimmy Edwards, Atlanta pianist, who will play Rachmaninoff's "Variations on a Theme by Paganini," and the Coca-Cola Choraliers, under the direction of Mrs. John Hoffman, who will sing a medley of Sigmund Romberg tunes.

Free parking is available. The show is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. In the event of rain Friday, the concert will be held Saturday night.

Voters Learning Machines' Use At City Libraries

Atlanta and Fulton County voters are being instructed in use of voting machines at Atlanta libraries.

John Settelmayer, library director, announced Tuesday that voting machines have been installed at the main library on Carnegie Way and at the West Hunter (Negro) branch. The machines are manned by Atlanta League of Women Voter experts, and any voter wanting instruction may get free lessons in their operation.

"We are proud of the machines and believe they will be a real contribution to the civic development of the community," Settelmayer said. "Voters also may get a complete list of local and state candidates and familiarize themselves with whom they wish to cast their ballots in the Sept. 8 primary."

Voters Meet Slated for Saturday

By CLAUDE GEORGE SR.

A special meeting of the Georgia Negro Voters League has been called for 12:30 p.m. Saturday at the Stewart Chapel AME Church in Macon to discuss the September gubernatorial contest and the best course for league members to take.

League President John Wesley Dobbs, who called the meeting, said "the political situation of the Negro in Georgia today is truly a very sad picture."

He said the meeting will be non-partisan and will "give opportunity for free expressions about the nine candidates for governor and the course we should follow at the present time and under existing circumstances."

"There is only one basic issue before the Negro voter — full citizenship, equal justice of the law and equal economic opportunities," Dobbs said. "I disapprove of any candidate who is using the Supreme Court ruling as a 'scarecrow' to frighten the voters away from the real problems the state ultimately will have to solve," he said.

All league members in Georgia have been asked to attend the meeting.

Clement Chest Leader

Dr. Rufus E. Clement, president of Atlanta University and a member of the Atlanta Board of Education, has accepted a position as general chairman of the Negro Division, 1955 Atlanta Community Chest campaign.

Serving with him as co-chairman will be T. M. Alexander, president of Alexander-Calloway Realty Co., and J. P. Whittaker, president of Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Campaign headquarters will be the Butler Street YMCA. Warren R. Cochrane, who will serve as executive secretary for the drive, said the campaign has been set up with the following six divisions:

Professional Organizations Division, headed by Mrs. B. E. Mays and Dr. R. O. Johnson.

85th Camp Meeting

The 85th annual camp meeting of the New Hope AME Church is being held at the camp grounds, 3099 Arden Rd., NW.

Bishop S. L. Greene, head of the AME Church in Georgia, will preach at the 11 a.m. service Sunday. Also preaching Sunday will be Bishop W. A. Fountain, retired senior bishop, who was for several years presiding bishop of Georgia, and Dr. J. F. Moses, pastor of Cosmopolitan AME Church.

Other outstanding preachers will take part in the meeting, the Rev. M. B. McClendon, New Hope pastor, declared. He said that a highlight of the program will be a talent show by the young people.

Corn King Honored at Towns Fair

By CELESTINE SIBLEY
Constitution Staff Writer

HIAWASSEE, Aug. 17 — Union County's, Grady Satterfield, known in the mountains as the "corn king," was honored by his peers—the blue-ribboned farmers of the hill country—as the Georgia Mountain Fair entered its second day here Tuesday.

Farmer Satterfield, the first 100-bushel corn club member in Georgia and holder of the first gold key for five consecutive years of 100 bushel production, was cited for his contribution to agriculture in the state.

"His success in producing high corn yields and his enthusiasm for sharing his experiences have encouraged hundreds of other farmers to join the ever-growing group who are increasing production," stated a citation, which included a big Satterfield picture, in corn section at the fair.

FLOWER JUDGING

Rows of flowers, ranging from such homely natives as Joe-Pye Weed to elegant imports like dahlias, stole the show as judging started here early Tuesday morning. Red, white and blue ribbons sprouted all over the Towns County school building on kitchen and garden products and on the various community and club exhibits.

Bill Bailey, a Lakemont artist, won the sweepstakes award, tri-color ribbon for an exhibit of watercolors of typical mountain views. But Miss Wayne Galloway, Hiawassee, won the sweepstakes in the flower show.

Blue-ribbon winners were:

H D CLUBS

Home Demonstration clubs, Blairsville, Young Harris, Woods Grove, Lower Hightower.

Four-H clubs, Blairsville, Dawson.

BLUE RIBBONS

Flower show blue ribbon winners are: Mrs. Jo Galloway, Hiawassee; Mrs. Harriett Mann, Mrs. S. G. Miller and Mrs. Zeke Ross, all of Young Harris; Mrs. Wayne Stroud and Mrs. Peggy Smith, both of Blairsville and both winners of two winners each; Mrs. E. P. Carson, winner of two blue ribbons for the Enotah Garden Club; Miss Elaine English of Hiawassee; Mrs. J. Y. Denton, Hiawassee; Miss Cornelia Chappell and Mrs. A. L. O'Quinn, both of Young Harris and winners of two blue ribbons each; Miss Clara McMekin and Mrs. Mary Hunt, Young Harris; Mrs. H. H. Hinton, Haysville, N. C.; J. C. Lee, Hiawassee, and Mrs. Carl Hamby, Blairsville.

Alvin Todd had a special two-room exhibit of more than a hundred different varieties of dahlias from his farm.

Resume Work On Churches, Unions Urged

A church leader has urged Atlanta construction trade unions to allow workers to continue construction of several churches under terms of an "old" contract.

Construction workers have been on strike since July 1.

Lawrence McCord, chairman of the board of trustees of Druid Hills Methodist Church, said he made the return-to-work appeal to William A. Cetti, spokesman for local unions.

McCord said Cetti had agreed to discuss the matter with other union leaders.

City Employe Injured by Bomb

A 37-year-old city parts department employe Tuesday received severe injuries about the right hand and arm while examining a bomb found in Piedmont Park, police said.

Vincent Urbassik, of 356 Josephine St., N. E., and Clyde Mitchell, of 511 Kelly St., S. E., discovered the four by three-inch bomb in the edge of a small lake. Ubassik said he tore off the top of the bomb and stuck a piece of burning paper to the contents to see what would happen. An explosion resulted. Urbassik was treated at Grady Hospital.

PORT SAID, Egypt, Aug. 17 (AP)—More than 2,000 British soldiers and marines sailed from Port Said tonight in the first big movement from the Suez Canal zone since the British-Egyptian evacuation agreement was reached.

Fulton Child Flown From Guam

A five-year-old East Point child stricken with leukemia in Guam is being flown half-way round the world by the Navy to Bethesda, Md., for treatment at the U. S. Naval Hospital.

The stricken child is Bruce Kirbow, son of Lt. and Mrs. C. B. Kirbow, whose permanent address is 409 E. Cleveland Ave., East Point. The family has been living in Guam where Lt. Kirbow was attached to the Naval Air Station at Agana.

The Navy is flying the boy, his parents, his sister and his two-week-old brother back to this country after Bruce took "a definite turn for the worse."

Bruce's two grandmothers, Mrs. Ione Crawford Kibrow of East Point and Mrs. Cora McCoy Mixon of Fairburn, plan to leave immediately with other members of the family for Bethesda.

Mrs. H. E. O'Neal of 111 Jefferson Terrace, East Point, the child's aunt and Lt. Kirbow's sister, said she had talked with the Kirbows by trans-Pacific telephone Sunday and was told the child was worse.

LEUKEMIA VICTIM
Bruce Kirbow

She said Bruce had been sick about three months but his illness was not diagnosed as leukemia until four weeks ago.

"The doctors offer almost no hope," she said.

Mrs. O'Neal said the family's flight to the United States was delayed by the birth of the Kirbows' third child, Clifford Philip, on July 31.

Mrs. O'Neal said Bruce was born in Atlanta and had spent much of his life in East Point. She said the family considered bringing him to an Atlanta hospital, but she talked with an Emory doctor who assured her the child could be treated with the same new anti-leukemia drugs at the Navy hospital.

These Hitting Pitchers

In his day and time, the sight of Wesley Cheek Ferrell approaching the plate with a baseball bat in hand terrorized a considerable number of American League pitchers. The odd thing about it was, Ferrell was a pitcher himself. But a hitting pitcher, like Dick Donovan of the Atlanta Crackers.

It is quite improper, you realize, for a pitcher to be a hitter. It suggests treachery. Yet, there is something plumb fascinating about a pitcher who hits, especially a pitcher who hits for the distance. Like this Donovan, who Monday evening delivered his 10th home run of the season.

Bisher

This is phenomenal. This is spectacular. This is better than Ferrell ever was, and Ferrell was a hitting fool when he worked for the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox. In 1931, Ferrell hit nine home runs for Cleveland. This is the major league record for pitchers.

He was a powerful right-hander with the backbone of a draft horse, the arm of a lumberjack and the temper of a concert violinist. Often it was said, "What a pitcher this guy would be if he could control his temper."

What a pitcher the guy was without controlling his temper. He is the only major leaguer who ever won 20 games each of his first four seasons. Twice later he won 20 or more for the Red Sox. But still and all, it was his hitting that captivated the folks, and it is as a hitting pitcher that Ferrell will be remembered, even against his four remarkable Indian summers.

There is this talk about, that Donovan should be converted into an outfielder, or a first baseman for fulltime advantage of his hitting machinery. There was the same campaign in Ferrell's behalf, and it eventually came off. Ferrell went to left field for the Indians. The first day, when he got three for five, it looked like a gem of a move. After about six games, the project was dropped. Ferrell not only quit hitting as a regular thing, but he was revealed to be a serious risk to the fence and fellow outfielders.

—Walter Johnson Was a Two-Way Champ

It might strike you as incredible that the hittingest pitcher of all time was also the pitchingest pitcher. In 1925, in the deep shadows of his great career, Walter Johnson hit .433 for the Washington Senators. This is the highest batting average on record for major league pitchers employed fulltime.

The National League champion was not a man of such great fortune. Jack Bentley came to the New York Giants from Baltimore after leading the International League both in hitting and pitching in 1921. His average, .412, is still the league record. His 398 total bases was high for the minors that year. He also hit 24 home runs, won 12 games and lost one.

Bentley was the same kind of fierce offender in the majors, but he left his pitching credentials behind. He set the National League hitting pitcher record at .427 in 1923, but had only two good seasons with the toeplate and shortly afterward was returned to the minors.

It is a historical fact that Hugh Hill of Nashville set the all-time Southern Association hitting record at .416 in 1902. This was a busy Hill, for at the same time he won 21 games as a pitcher.

—Donovan, Another Guy Ahead of Ruth

Out of the wilds of the Evangeline country, though, comes the supreme hitting pitcher of them all. Once Roy Sanner was a New Orleans performer, but by 1948 he had lost his good stuff and dedicated his versatile being to the Houma, La., club. He descended upon the Evangeline League like a swarm of locusts and left behind only skeletons of former records. Sanner hit .386, 34 homers, drove in 126 runs and had 386 total bases, struck out 251 batters, won 21 games and lost only two, hit safely in 31 games and won 17 straight. All of these either set a record for the league, or was high for that season.

There is a certain amount of frustration in the stories of some hitting pitchers. Just after the war, Chattanooga had a Spanish fellow named Lou Bevil, a hitting pitcher. He was a tremendous hitter, but he was not a tremendous pitcher. All attempts to make something else out of him, such as a third baseman, resulted in disaster. He not only couldn't field, but neither did he hit well on a daily diet.

New Orleans had a similar case in 1950. A Canadian fellow, Harry Fisher, was murder at bat. Fact is, he led the Southern Association with .423, but it was unofficial. Not enough times at bat. Fisher, though, was also about a .423 pitcher. He later tried to play the outfield at Hollywood, but the rigors of daily duty also exposed him as another human being.

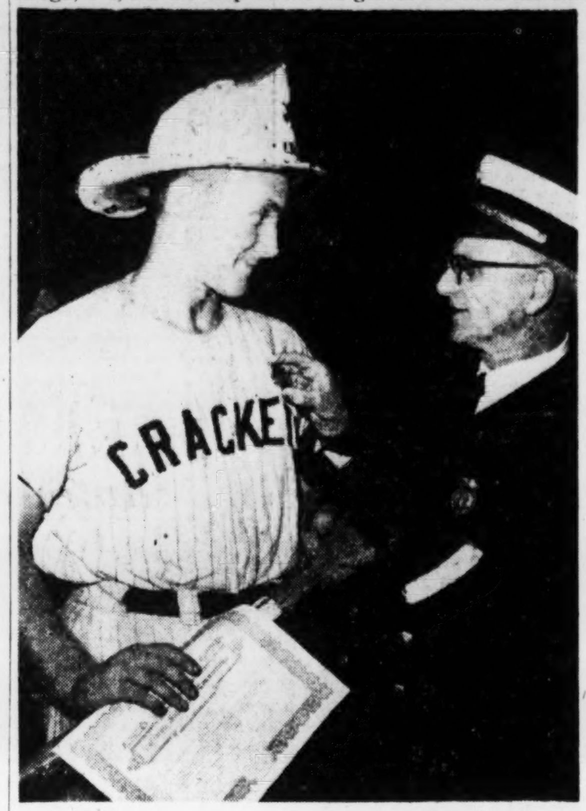

The homer feast of Willie Mays has turned New York inside out. Mays has hit 37 home runs in 416 times at bat. This makes him a shabby inferior to Donovan of the Crackers, who has hit 10 in 83. This also puts Donovan ahead of the pace of Babe Ruth, whom you might recall was the greatest hitting pitcher of them all.

Homers by Torre, Whisenant Highlight Five-run Rally, Get Giggie Home Free

By JESSE OUTLAR

Whitlow Wyatt's pennant-minded Atlanta agents crammed all of their offensive action into a pulstating eighth-inning comeback Tuesday night and clipped Chattanooga, 5-4, for a sweep of the 11 games between the clubs at Ponce de Leon Park this season.

FIREMAN GETS MARSHAL'S OUTFIT —Named a genuine Fire Marshal by State Safety Commissioner Zack D. Cravey, Atlanta's iron fireman of the mound, reliefer Don McMahon is badged and capped here by Atlanta's Fire Chief C. C. Styron, before the Chattanooga game Tuesday night.

Though they have won six of their last seven games, the Crackers still trail New Orleans by a length and a half. The Pels protected their lead by beating Memphis, 5-4.

The Lookouts, who haven't won at Poncey since June 8 a year ago, were coasting along 4-0 with Gerry Lane in the pitching saddle when the Crackers set off their extra-base barrage.

Pete Whisenant administered the knockout wallop with a two-run homer over the left fence. Frank Torre started the spree with a two-run clout into the right signs. It was No. 17 for Whisenant, No. 8 for Torre and the 18th in seven games for the Crackers.

A Ladies Night crowd of 3,444 watched the Crackers, who have scored 36 of their last 42 runs on extra-base blows, wing from behind in sensational style.

Dick Donovan, pinch-hitter de luxe, started Lane's downfall with a single, but was forced by Vern Petty. Torre, who had never hit a homer before this season, then slammed one of the most important of his career.

Manager Cal Ermer elected to stick with Lane, and Chuck Tanner kept the rally brewing with a single. Bob Montag followed with a towering drive to center, which fell back of Bruce Barnes for a triple. The Crackers still needed the tying run, however, and Whisenant promptly sailed a Lane serve far over the left-field barrier.

Cracker supporters got a scare in the top of the ninth, when Frank Sacka opened with a double. But reliefer Don McMahon struck out Don Grate, swinging for Lane, and got Gene Verble on a fly to Wooten. Sacka buzzed on to third, where he perished as McMahon whiffed pinch-hitter Hank DiJohnson.

As a result of the Crackers' electrifying finish, Bob Giggie was rewarded with his first victory since July 20.

Giggie, biggest disappointment in the Cracker pitching stable, came out of semi-retirement and hurled a strong game.

He fell behind in the Lookout first when Gene Verble walked and came across on Dan Porter's double, which was mishandled by Montag. Verble crossed again in the third when he singled, took second on an out when a double-play failed, and zipped home on a wild pitch.

Roy Hawes tagged Giggie for his 19th homer in sixth, and the Lookouts scored again in the seventh when Montag played Lane's drive to left into a double. Verble's hit down the middle delivered the pitcher.

The Crackers hadn't pushed a runner past second when they suddenly jumped Lane in the riotous eighth. But one jump was all they needed to flatten the right-hander with his sixth setback, compared to a dozen wins.

Loser in ten of their last dozen games, the Lookouts shift to Birmingham Wednesday, and Nashville pulls in for its final appearance at Poncey.

Leo Cristante (21-6) probably will hurl the Car Night affair, which opens a four-game set.

CRACKER DIARY: Don McMahon, the Cracker fireman, was appointed an honorary fire marshal by State Safety Fire Commissioner Zack Cravey. Atlanta Fire Chief C. C. Styron presented the hurler a badge and certifi-

Avila's Sack-Loaded Single Lifts Indians Over Tigers

Tribe Captures Seventh in Row

CLEVELAND, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians came from a run behind in the ninth inning tonight and beat the Detroit Tigers 4-3 on Bobby Avila's single with the bases loaded. The victory was the seventh in a row for the Tribe and the eighth triumph by pitcher Bob Lemon in the last four weeks.

Dale Mitchell Bobby Avila

Dale Mitchell started the winning rally with a pinch single, and singles by pinch hitter Dave Philley and Lemon drove home the tying run. Al Smith was purposely walked to fill the bases. Then Avila slapped a single to right to bring Philley home with the deciding run.

Lemon's victory was his 17th against five losses. Virgil Trucks of Chicago is the only other American League pitcher to have won 17.

Hofman Slams Pair As Giants Win, 8-3

Mays' Four Hits Also Help Antonelli Gain 18th Victory

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Reserve infielder Bobby Hofman hit two home runs and Willie Mays smashed four straight hits tonight as the league-leading New York Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-3, for Johnny Antonelli's 18th victory.

The Giants jumped on Curt Simmons for four runs in the first inning on a two-run triple by Mays and a two-run homer by Hofman and went on to break a three-game losing streak. The Giants had lost seven of their last eight starts.

Antonelli was in trouble only twice, in the fifth inning when Del Ennis and Willie Jones hit bases-empty home runs and in the ninth when doubles by Bobby Morgan and Del Ennis and a single by Ted Kazanski produced one more run.

Bratkowski Ready To Battle Trippi In Clash Between Bears, Cardinals

Brat Opens Pro Career

Trippi Opens Eighth Year

By JIMMY MANN
Constitution Sports Writer

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 17. A lot of University of Georgia football lovers are looking forward to the charity tiff between the National Football League Chicago Cardinals and Chicago Bears at Chamberlain Field here Wednesday night. But the key figure of the contest, ex-Bulldog Zeke Bratkowski, is the one man eyeing the 8:30 struggle with the highest anticipation.

Charlie Trippi Zeke Bratkowski

For Bratkowski, the Wednesday battle will acquaint him with full scale professional football for the first time and reacquaint him with one-platooning which may be the making of a pro giant of the passing genius.

Bear Coach George Halas placed the offensive key in the Brat's hand. He's the man to pilot the club against the Cards in Wednesday's second exhibition.

Running into play for pay arms won't be new to Zeke but having hired help clear the path may be a welcomed switch. Bratkowski's growth as a pro was stunted somewhat by the lack of line support in last Friday's All-Star squabble at Chicago.

Opposing the Brat will be one of the Bulldog's all-time greats as well as a Cardinal hero in his eighth year, Charlie Trippi.

Trippi, versatile halfback, got in on the first exhibition contest played by his Cards last

CARDS		BEARS
Crittenden, Wayne	LE	Hoffman, Ark.
Teeuws, Tulane	LT	Williams, Ark.
Coleman, Mich. St.	LG	Connor, N. D.
Sanford, La. Tech	C	Hansen, Tex. Wes.

Jennings, Ohio St.	RT	Jones, Md.
Stonesifer, N'west.	RE	McColl, Stanford
Root, Miami (O.)	QB	Bratkowski, Ga.
Trippi, Georgia	HB	Stone, Bradley
Olszewski, Calif.	HB	Dooley, Miami
Svoboda, Tulane	FB	Jagade, Indiana

Saturday against Green Bay and scored one touchdown in the 27-14 victory.

He and the Brat step into the spotlight Wednesday noon when they will be honored at a banquet given by the newly organized Chattanooga Bulldog Club. Georgia Coach Wally Butts who coached both boys to All-America honors will also attend the banquet.

Aside from Trippi the Cards' lineup is dotted with three other ex-SEC performers, tackle Len Teeuws of Tulane, guard Jerry Watford of Alabama and fullback Bill Svoboba of Tulane. The Bears have guard Kline Gilbert of Mississippi listed as a starter.

Ex-national collegiate sensations who will exhibit their skills include: Cards—Guard Don Coleman, Michigan State; end Don Stonesifer, Northwestern; tackle, cocaptain Jack Jennings, Ohio State, and halfback Johnny Olszewski, California. Bears—Cocaptain, guard George Connor, Notre Dame; tackle Stan Jones, Maryland, and Chick Jagade, Indiana.

George Blanda of Kentucky, John Dottley of Mississippi, Jim Sears of Southern California, and Charlie Phillips of West Virginia, are other stars on the Bear club.

Lamar McHan of Arkansas and Bratkowski will lead nine players out of the Friday night All-Star battle in the contest.

A sellout crowd of over 15,000 is expected for the game. Four thousand tickets have been held back and will go on sale at the box office one hour before game time.

Chisox Powder Orioles

Sweep Bill By 2-0, 3-1

BALTIMORE, Aug. 17 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox were hard put to score tonight, but fortunately had the powerless Baltimore Orioles to cope with and swept a twi-night doubleheader, 2-0 and 3-1.

The cellar Orioles didn't score a run until the sixth inning of the nightcap. By then, the White Sox had a 2-0 lead and edged another run ahead in the eighth.

Chicago left 13 runners stranded in the first game to Baltimore's nine. Eight White Sox runners went begging in the second game during which Chicago belted 11 hits. Four of them came in the eighth but produced only one run.

BUCS GET CASH, HARMONY---BING SINGS RICKEY PRAISE

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17 (UP)—John Galbreath of Columbus, Ohio, multimillionaire president and top stockholder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said tonight more money has been invested in the club "in the past 24 hours."

Although he didn't say how much, sources close to the club indicated it was about $250,000.

Galbreath said the money had been put up by himself, Tom Johnson, Pittsburgh attorney who is vice president and secretary of the club, Branch Rickey, Pirate general manager, and Galbreath's son, Dan, and his daughter, Joan Galbreath Phillips."

Rickey, who announced a short time ago he is quitting as general manager when his contract expires next November, reportedly had $200,000 invested in the club prior to the latest deal.

Galbreath didn't discuss the club's finances. However, in a recent copyrighted series of articles, Al Abrams, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, said the club has lost about $1,850,000 in the past five years.

Galbreath said he is sorry to learn of Rickey's plans to retire as general manager. Saying no thought has been given to a successor, Galbreath added:

Rickey's contract is for five years and an additional five in an advisory capacity.

"I personally would like him to continue at least one year beyond 1955 as the active general manager. For one thing, I don't believe Rickey can be inactive. He has never mentioned anyone as a possible successor, nor have I given it any thought."

Galbreath also said that Bing Crosby, one of the Pirate stockholders, has never been asked for financial aid by the Pirates since his original investment in 1947. The Pirate owner said he had received a telegram from Crosby denying that he had ever said he didn't approve of Rickey's policies.

To the contrary, Galbreath added, the telegram said Crosby was in complete accord with Rickey.

DiPippo Hoists Vols Out of Loop Cellar

Mobile Bows to Little Rock, 9-3; Pels Down Chicks, 5-4

By BILL BERGUSON
United Press Sports Writer

The Nashville Volunteers topped Birmingham, 3-2, Tuesday night to take a five-game series from the Barons, 4-1, and move out of the Southern Association cellar, on Larry DiPippo's homer in the ninth.

The Vols didn't manage a run off Birmingham's Dave Benedict for six innings, but then collected three tallies in the last three frames. Larry DiPippo's homer was the difference.

The Vols replaced Mobile in seventh-place as the Bears toppled into the cellar. Little Rock's Jake Crawford hit three home-runs worth seven runs-batted-in to lead the Travs to a 9-to-3 win over Mobile.

The loop-leading New Orleans Pelicans kept first place out of reach by sliding by the Memphis Chicks, 5 to 4. Bob Schultz spaced nine hits to win his 18th of the season for the Pels. New Orleans scored four runs in the third inning and picked up the winning tally in the eighth.

Outdoor Georgia

Nimble Nimrods' Days Approach | Palmetto State Opens on Deer

Probably you haven't noticed, but it's only 13 days until hunting season—squirrel and doves, that is, in Georgia, and in South Carolina they're already hunting deer.

You'd have noticed if you'd been on top of a small monadnock in a valley of the Blue Ridge on the Georgia-Carolina state line like I have for a week, with blanket weather at night for eight straight nights.

Bill Allen

On the banks of the creeks and rivers up there, and on the early harvest-moonlit lakes dotted with nighttime fishing enthusiasts, it is cold enough for a fire and a sleeping bag, or if you're in a boat, a wool windbreaker jacket.

And the squirrels who barked and scampered around the shack roof and its hugging hickory trees must have gotten Fulton Lovell's Game and Fish Commission newsletter, because they have shut up their barking and gone high in limbland.

But they'll not hide long, for the men in squirrel country already are plotting their first day's hunt, for Wednesday, Sept. 1 at daybreak.

Then, there is dove season here in Georgia with a pretty large crop of the sad little darters but not enough for the limit to be raised as first announced by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The F&WS, arbiters of migratory fowl seasons, now have laid down a season of 40 days (which is 10 days longer than last year) but have limited the bag to the same as last year—eight a day and eight in possession. The first half of the dove season ends on Sept. 20, and the second half begins on Dec. 22, ending Jan. 10. Hunting doves will be permitted only between noon and sunset.

Now, this deer hunting which began Saturday in South Carolina is in 16 counties: Aiken, Lexington, Richland, Calhoun, Orangeburg, Barnwell, Bamberg, Allendale, Hampton, Jasper, Beaufort, Colleton, Dorchester, Charleston, Berkley and Williamsburg.

A lot of eager stalkers from Georgia go over and purchase a $15.75 nonresident license and get them a deer before Sept. 1.

The deer are definitely there to be had. Only one buck per hunter—and it must be reported and inspected. Write A. A. Richardson at their Wildlife Resources department in Columbia for further detail.

So, hunting is upon us and I will soon make that float trip form Gainesville to Roswell bridge on the Chattahoochee bass fishing and squirrel hunting all the way—really the best offering of the outdoors in this part of Georgia during the whole year—but that's another story. . . .

SHORT CASTS: Milledgeville's Kiwanians are sponsoring a fishing rodeo for youngsters between eight and 14 on August 28. H. B. Leavitt says the event will be held at the training school lake in Milledgeville and helping with prizes and arrangements are David Collins, Robert Holcombe, Pate Forehand, W. A. Stephens, and W. F. Mudge. . . . According to the latest Duckological, from Ducks Unlimited, a very large late hatch has come through and if autumn weather up in Canada is not too rough, there may be a bumper crop of ducks. They are going to mature pretty late, however. . . . M. C. Myer of Young Harris promises North Georgia's greatest foxhound show of all time Friday night at Hiawassee's Mountain Fair. . . . Incidentally, that would be a good weekend—mixing the great bream fishing in Chatuge with a trip to the state's most colorful preautumn fair and carnival. . . . Converted Hurlers Get Victories

Willis, Smith Hurl Amateur Wins

A pair of players turning pitcher for the first time this year picked up wins in third-round play of the City Amateur baseball tournament.

Candler Park shortstop Bobby Willis stopped Kirkwood, 21-2, on a three-hitter and Shurbutt Service outfielder Bobby Smith gained credit for a 14-5 victory over Scottdale although he needed help in the fifth.

Willis, property of the Atlanta Crackers and now a star with Fort Mac, struck out 11 batters in a game called at the end of seven innings. He gave up single runs in the first and third frames but finished strong with four shutout innings.

Smith fanned five but grew wild in the bottom of the fifth, loading the bases. He was relieved by George Bradford.

The converted outfielder goose-egged Scottdale for three innings but allowed four runs in the fourth and one in the fifth. He was ahead, 7-5, when he left the mound.

Mac Yarbrough slammed four hits—one a two-on homer in the sixth—to spark Tucker's 18-0 win over W. C. Cayce. Starter Taylor Phillips struck out eight of nine men he faced before leaving the game with a commanding lead.

Turk Murphy whiffed ten batters and Sonny Conn walloped a three-run homer in the first as Bolton nosed Villa Rica, 6-5.

Berry Baffles Dalrymple To Advance in Net Play

Hunt, Collins, Longshore Make Third Round Before Rain Falls

By ROBERT WYNN

Warren Berry of College Park and Presbyterian College moved into the third round of competition in the Georgia State tennis singles tournament Tuesday afternoon with a surprise 6-1, 6-1 triumph over Tulane University's Jerry Dalrymple at the Bryan M. Grant tennis center.

The match opened as if it might be a close affair with Berry taking the first game with his service and Dalrymple taking the second without losing a point. However, Berry grabbed the next five games and the first set 6-1. He took the second set by the same score.

Washington's Harvey Jackson moved into the third round of play by handing Charles Tuller of Atlanta a 6-3, 6-2 setback.

Jerry Hunt, also a Presbyterian student advanced with a 6-0, 6-1 triumph over Rhodes Mathews.

The only other persons to advance to the third round before rain postponed the tournament until Wednesday were Nat Collins of Atlanta and George Longshore of Anniston, Ala.

Stevenson Knocked Out In Canada

Special to The Atlanta Constitution

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 17—Frank Stevenson Jr. of Savannah, Ga., dropped a heart-breaking 23-hole match to Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., in the second round of the Canadian Amateur golf championship here Tuesday, but fellow Georgians Dynamite Billy Goodloe and Hobart Manley Jr. moved into Wednesday's third round.

Stevenson, the University of Georgia golf team captain, and Merrins, captain of last spring's LSU team, staged a real thriller before the little Mississippi swinger finally closed it out on the fifth extra hole.

Frank Stevenson

Former Atlantan, Harvie Ward, received a default when J. Walcott Brown of Allaire, N. J., withdrew.

Cobb Takes Medal

Lamar Cobb shot a 40-40—80 to take qualifying honors in the Druid Hills junior golf tourney Tuesday afternoon. The score was a new low for young Cobb.

Cards Jump Jim Wilson For Victory

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 17 (AP)—Rookie Joe Frazier smashed a three-run pinch homer off Jim (No-Hit) Wilson, putting teeth into Brooks Lawrence's seven-hitter tonight, as the St. Louis Cardinals snapped Milwaukee's nine-game winning streak with a 4-1 triumph.

The loss, the Braves third in the last 23 games, cost them a full game in their chase of league-leading New York and dropped them 4½ games behind the Giants.

Frazier's homer, made while he was batting for Alex Grammas in the seventh, chased Wilson and put an end to his personal string of eight straight wins. The 385-foot blast into the rightfield bleachers was Frazier's third of the year, all in pinch hit roles.

Joyce Denson, shooting for her second straight East Lake Country Club girls' golf title, posted a 52-44—96 to assume a commanding lead over runnerup Sidney Allen Tuesday. Miss Allen had 65-68—133.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Ed Mathews To Wed in October; Rosewall, Hoad Win in Doubles

Condensed From Wire Services

Eddie Mathews' mother said Tuesday that her homer-hitting son, third baseman for the Milwaukee Braves, "most sought-after bachelor" in the major leagues, will be married some time in October.

The bride will be Virjean Lauby of Marshfield, Wis. Mrs.

Sports in Brief

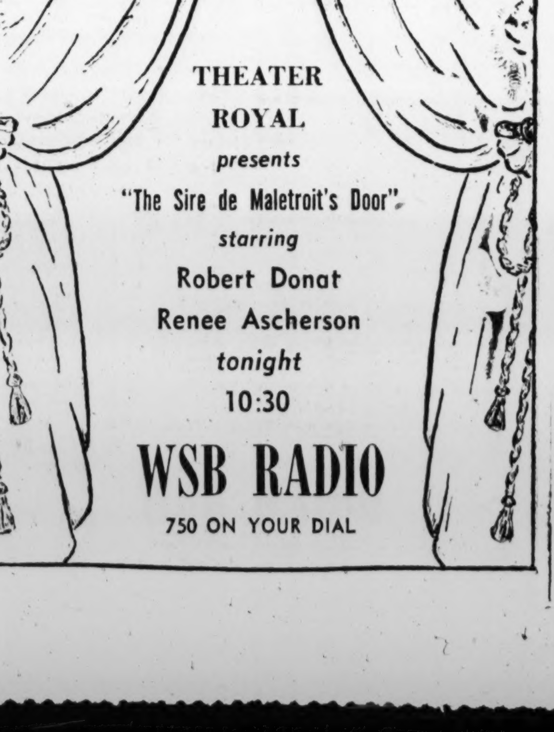

Eloise Mathews said she would fly from her Santa Barbara home this weekend to Chicago and go with Eddie to meet her future daughter-in-law.

TENNIS: Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall won easily while Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas had to fight hard to gain the third round of the 74th National doubles tennis tournament. Rex Hartwig and Neale Fraser, second-seeded Aussies, and Ham Richardson and Billy Talbert also advanced. . . . In the women's matches, Sachiko Kamo and Mrs. Grace Jones, Susan and Judy Devlin, Margaret Varner and Ethel Norton, Doris Hart and Shirley Fry, all advanced into the third round. . . . Former Atlantan Donna Floyd entered the third round of the national girls' championships in Chicago. . . . Evelyn George of Atlanta lost in the first round of the national Negro tennis championships at Daytona Beach.

BASEBALL: Stamford, Conn., Babe Ruth League Baseball champs won an easy 8-1 victory over Visalia, Calif., Tuesday on the four-hit pitching of Andy Wasil who has twice pitched them to the title. . . . Leo Durocher, Giant manager, and Dusty Rhodes were fined $75 and $25 by National League President Warren Giles for argument and delay in the game at Brooklyn last Saturday. . . . Second baseman Gran Hamner and pitcher Herm Wehmeier for the Phils were thrown out of the Giant game for arguing about a fan's catch.

BOXING: Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, said in San Rafael he hopes the gate for Friday night's middleweight title fight between Bobo Olson and Rocky Castellani will exceed $200,000. The fight at San Francisco's Cow Palace, is co-sponsored by Bennie Ford . . . Norris mentioned Nino Valdes, Don Cockell, and light heavyweight champ Archie Moore as possible challengers for Rocky Marciano if he wins in his rematch with Ezzard Charles next month. . . . For Olson, if he whips the little rock, Norris mentioned Tiberio Mitri of Italy, Holly Mims and Joey Giardello.

Bredde is descended from the Pawnee tribe. . . . The Detroit Lions will be captained this year by Thurman McGraw, tackle and center LaVerne Torgeson replacing Doak Walker and Les Bingham.

McCullough's Grand Slammer Gives Cubs Twin Bill Sweep

Pollet Wins Opener, 5-0

Howie Pollet

Clyde McCullough

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Catcher Clyde McCullough hit his first grand slam homer in his 14-year major league career to spark the Chicago Cubs to a 6-1 victory over Cincinnati in the second game of a double-header today. Veteran Howie Pollet blanked the Redlegs on five hits to win the opener, 5-0.

The opening conquest snapped a 10-game Cub losing streak. The doubleheader victory was their third of 20 played so far this season and came after a string of 17 Chicago losses in 21 road games.

McCullough's homer, off loser Bud Podbielan, was his second of the season—first since opening day at St. Louis. Paul Minner, posting his 10th triumph to become the Cubs' winningest pitcher, stopped the Redlegs on six hits, four by Bobby Adams.

Hank Sauer used his thirty-third homer to give Pollet a 1-0 lead in the second inning of the opener. Ralph Kiner's No. 19 was the leadoff poke of the Chicagoans' four-run sixth which chased starter Corky Valentine with his tenth loss.

Golf for All

Frank Clarks, Aces Run Hand in Hand

By Jimmy Mann

A couple of Frank Clarks moved into the golf news during the past week. East Lake's Frank snapped everyone to attention at the Peachtree Hills hole-in-one site Monday night when he deposited his tee shot in the cup and Austell's Dr. Frank snapped to attention when his partner Joe England canned a tee shot on the 155-yard par three test at Lithia Springs.

Jimmy Mann

Dice Anderson, C. A. Drew and J. H. Avery know how the Austell doctor felt when England navigated the hole in one blow, they were on hand at Bobby Jones when Fred Ajax pulled the same stunt on the par three 168-yard eighth test.

Ajax arched a six-iron that plopped home. It was the first such feat for him in years of golfing.

HOWARD AXELBURG stood in awe as mate C. K. Liller rammed a five-iron in the cup on the 335-yard eighth at Ansley Park for an eagle two.

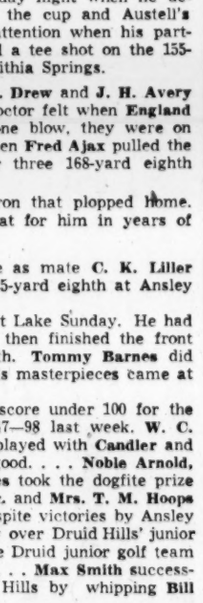

Allen Yates cashed two eagles at East Lake Sunday. He had a two-under three on the first hole and then finished the front side by duplicating the feat on the ninth. Tommy Barnes did the same thing on the No. 2 course but his masterpieces came at one and 16.

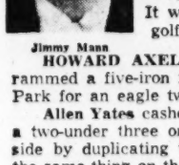

SCOTT CANDLER JR. dropped his score under 100 for the first time in his golfing life with a 51-47—98 last week. W. C. Woolen, Glen Jackson and Robin Harris played with Candler and are looking for a new fourth. He's too good. . . . Noble Arnold, Frank Clark, C. L. Smith and Allen Yates took the dogfite prize at EL. . . . Dog and cat winners were Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hoops and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Densen. . . . Despite victories by Ansley Park's Coty Cotsakis and Bobby Pomeroy over Druid Hills' junior aces Dennis Fisher and Bobby Brown, the Druid junior golf team took the club match last week, 10½-5½. . . . Max Smith successfully defending his club title at Druid Hills by whipping Bill Brooker 4 and 3.

Abe Massar clipped Otis Garrard 4 and 3 for the Bobby Jones club crown. R. E. Stewart, Doyle Butler and Lee McClure were other flight champs. . . . Who's Atlanta's most improved player? Maybe it's a tie between Lyle Boyer, 38-year-old dental student at Emory, and young Roy McCollum, Northside High School. But Boyer turned in a 32-37—69 at Jones last week in front of John Cudd, Bob White and Ben McCrary. He has that to go with his recent 68 at Adams Park. . . . Paul Ford, Hurt Adkisson, Tommy Ford and A. J. Kaiser won the West End bogey Sunday.

Charlie Edwards, pro at West End, failed to make the All-American tourney by one shot. It took 72 cracks to make the event and the easy-going WE pro turned in 73. . . . Austell's Bill O'Callahan knocked his second shot on the par five No. 6 green at Lithia Springs last week and while walking to the ball his caddy said, "Mistah Bill, you can sink that one and we'll have us a hawk." O'Callahan turned and said, "No, you mean an eagle." Caddy: "Dat's it, dat's it." He had a birdie.

IT SLIPPED!!—CHICAGO, Aug. 17—Mrs. Joan Bowler of Joliet, Ill., receives first aid in Wrigley Field today in the first game of a double-header between the Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Redlegs. She was lacerated on the right side of her forehead when Wally Post lost his bat swinging at a pitch, and it hit her.

Gil Turner Meets Al Andrews

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Gil Turner of Philadelphia, who had his chance at the welterweight title, and Al Andrews meet in a 10-rounder at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

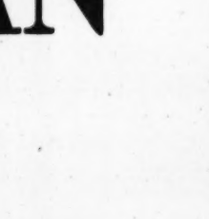

Turner has scored 30 knockouts in 42 victories and has lost only 6 times, but one of those losses was a trimming by 147-pound king Kid Gavilan in a title match two years ago.

Andrews has won 28 bouts, lost seven and fought two draws. Ranked as the No. 7 welterweight, Andrews gained TV prominence with two victories over Chuck Davey whom he once served as sparring partner.

Turner had won 31 straight before running out of gas against Gavilan. That was his first professional loss and it prompted him to move into the middleweight ranks.

"I'm coming back to the welterweight class now," Turner said today. "That's my natural division. The middleweights were too strong and heavy for me. Besides, Gavilan is past his peak and ready to be taken now."

DADDY? DADDY WHO?—NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 17—William Edward Booth Jr., who has never seen his father, an Army sergeant, registers only puzzlement as his mother tries to get him to talk to Daddy. Sgt. Booth arrived in the U. S. yesterday, just as his son turned seven months old, as one out of five "soldiers of the year" from the First Division in Germany.

Face-to-Face Search for Unity Is Started by World Churchmen

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 17 (AP)—A huge combine of the world's Christian leadership tonight began a face-to-face search for keys to church unity with the declaration: "We are now standing at a new beginning."

"Jesus prayed that 'They may all be one'," said Bishop Anders Nygren, of the Church of Sweden. "One must now take that prayer seriously, that Jesus shall not have prayed in vain."

AROUND GLOBE

Before 1,500 representatives of churches from around the globe, he and other delegates opened discussions on a major issue facing the assembly of the World Council of Churches:

"Our oneness in Christ and our disunity as churches."

This is one of six basic questions that leaders from 161 denominations in 48 countries will wrestle with in a week and a half of sectional meetings before putting findings up for decision.

STAGE SET

A decade of exploratory contacts among churchmen have set the stage for further advances toward unity, said Canon O. S. Tomkins, of the Church of England and produced a "slowly ripening harvest."

The keynoters pointed to a maze of obstacles and time-entrenched differences that have split Christendom for centuries, and now stand as formidable barriers to bringing it back together.

But they set their sights on that eventual goal, citing the command of Scripture, and said only time can determine by what means or form the "essential oneness" of the church may be manifest.

MUST MOVE

But the effort has reached a point, said Bishop Nygren, at which "we must move from the periphery to the center."

Earlier, Hungarian Bishop John Peter told a special session that churches should assert "more courageously" their freedom from domination by any social systems.

But he disputed implied criticisms about the church's position in his Red homeland.

Lands in Sicily To Be Horrified By Her Pen Pal

Hundreds of passengers aboard the liner Homeland watched as shapely Gaetana Panepinto strode from the gangplank to the Sicilian youth who she told friends won her heart in a long exchange of letters. He was waiting with a bouquet.

Miss Panepinto stopped short.

"Oh," she cried closing her eyes. "You're not what I expected. How horrible!"

The fiance, as yet unidentified, held out the flowers.

She opened her eyes, saw the bouquet, grabbed it and tossed it to the ground. Then she broke into tears.

Bar Assn. Rejects Plan For Teaching Red Theory

CHICAGO, Aug. 17—(AP)—Recommendations that the theory and practice of communism be taught in public schools were rejected today by the American Bar Assn. after an hour and a half of bitter debate.

The original resolution was offered by the association's American Citizenship Committee, whose chairman, U. S. District Judge Walter M. Bastian of Washington, D. C., argued that "to effectively combat communism Americans need to have an understanding of what it is about."

Revised several times during the debate, the resolution in its final form would have put the association on record as favoring the teaching of principles of our constitutional government "in contrast with communism, fascism and other totalitarian forms of government."

Samuel P. Sears of Boston, who led off the opposition, shouted:

"We don't need communism in our educational system even as a scarecrow. We don't need to fly the Red flag of Russia alongside Old Glory just for comparison.

In the end, the association's House of Delegates tabled all resolutions, original and revised, by voice vote.

Earlier, the delegates called upon Congress to adopt a code of procedure defining the jurisdiction of investigating committees and guaranteeing the rights of witnesses.

"In my job I've got to be on my toes all day. But when I was constipated, I never could get the kind of relief I needed from any of the laxatives I tried.

"Then a fellow where I work told me he used Sal Hepatica. I took his advice, bought a bottle, and took some the next time I woke up with that headachy, logy feeling due to constipation. And, let me tell you, it was a real blessing. Why I felt like my old self again within about an hour!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again . . . usually within an hour. Or, take in the evening one-half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens sour stomach at the same time too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

Ala. Town Scared as Smoke Boils Around 'Explosives' Sign

FLOMATON, Ala., Aug. 17—(AP)—A smoking freight car labeled high explosives gave this town some anxious moments tonight before demolition experts found the smoke coming from an acid container.

An alert for possible evacuation by Flomaton's 1,200 persons was called off, and roadblocks on two heavily traveled highways were taken off by Alabama and Florida highway patrolmen.

The car had been pushed from the Louisville & Nashville Railroad yards here to a siding about a mile and a half west of Flomaton after trainmen noticed smoke pouring from the car this afternoon.

Demolition experts, brought by helicopter from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., found the smoke pouring from the acid container which had burst inside the boxcar. They neutralized the smoking acid with chemical foam.

Lt. Col. Dewitt R. Searles, Eglin public information officer, said he understood that the car contained "inert bomb clusters with small fuses which could have exploded but which would not have the high explosive effect of bombs."

Power & Light Rate Hearing Postponed Again

A hearing on Georgia Power & Light Co.'s request to continue a $128,000 annual rate increase has been postponed again.

The hearing, originally set for June 24, was put off at that time until Tuesday.

The Public Service Commission said that attorneys for the cities involved in the rate increase asked that the hearing be postponed because they were busy with elections.

26-Hr. Gowen Talkathon Open to All Questions

By DERICK DANIELS

Candidate for governor Charlie Gowen will set himself up in a glass house Wednesday night and ask the public to hurl the questions at him—rocky ones or otherwise.

For 26 uninterrupted hours, starting at 9 p.m. Gowen will sit before radio microphones, television cameras and an audience in a glass-fronted automobile showroom at Spring and Harris streets, North West.

In his non-stop appearance — billed as the first political Talkathon in Georgia history—Gowen will meet the public, question by question.

A battery of 10 volunteer telephone operators will be on hand to take down questions and pass them unscreened to announcers at Gowen's elbow.

Chairs will be set up inside the showroom for spectators and questioners. And for those who like curb service in their politics there will be portable microphones that can be brought to cars along the curb.

If, in the early hours of Thursday, the flow of questions should ease up, Gowen will take over from the telephone operators and talk directly to the quizmasters.

A microwave relay system has been set up to transmit televised portions of the Talkathon from the showroom. For radio, special telephone lines will carry the program to the broadcast stations.

Hand Charges Thompson, Griffin in 20 Yrs. of Deals

By JIM PINSON
Constitution Staff Writer

CALHOUN, Aug. 17—House Speaker Fred Hand headed into north Georgia Tuesday shaking hands and charging in radio talks that opponents Marvin Griffin and M. E. Thompson have "been mixed up in every shady deal, political racket and shameful scandal which has disgraced the state during the last two decades."

Speaking over radio at Calhoun, Hand charged that Griffin and Thompson are backed by an "unholy element which is trying to buy its way back into the state government."

"WANT NO PHENIX"

"We are proud of what we have accomplished in Georgia during the past few years, Georgians," the candidate added, "want no Phenix City."

The candidate said the people will reject his opponents who have been connected with the "rackets" of the past.

During the first seven months of Thompson's administration as acting governor, Hand said, 178 highway contracts were let by negotiations.

The Pelham businessman repeated his charge that Thompson, while state revenue commissioner under Gov. Ellis Arnall, approved a liquor license for one-time liquor czar John Horace Bowen after the application had been turned down by the chief of the state alcohol control unit.

He charged that Griffin's plan to set up a rural roads authority is an attempt to put the highway department back in politics.

"Marvin wants to get around constitutional restrictions by creating a second highway department to pave rural roads," Hand declared. "That's a trick he learned from Ed Rivers. And you remember the scandals and indictments which resulted when Ed created himself a second highway department."

STUDY OF WATER

Earlier at Cartersville, the candidate for governor called for a statewide study of Georgia's water resources and the use of the state's water supply.

"The vast demands of industry for water and the need for irrigation must be met and solved," he declared. "We cannot do it by sitting in a corner sucking our thumbs. We must get busy on this problem."

He also promised to "strengthen" the State Department of Agriculture, carry out the Adequate Program for Education and keep the schools "public and segregated."

Hand again called for the people of Georgia to "quit thinking in terms of Talmadge or anti-Talmadge."

PROUD

He said he is proud to have been a part of the administration of Gov. Herman Talmadge, but added:

"Gov. Herman Talmadge is not a candidate in this campaign. He is not an issue. . . . I believe he is sincere and honest when he says he is not using his influence for any one candidate."

At Cartersville and Calhoun, Hand pledged a "clean, honest, efficient and businesslike administration." He said the state can have expanded services without new taxes.

Handshaking stops Tuesday included Kingston, Cassville, and Adairsville. Wednesday the candidate will make four speeches at Rome. He will speak at the Farmers Market at 10:30 am., on Radio Station WROM at 12:15, on WRGA at 7 pm. and WROM-TV at 9:15 pm.

Garland Hits Role of Liquor In Campaign

Special to The Atlanta Constitution

CHATSWORTH, Aug. 17 — If some of the "big money" candidates are firmly allied with the liquor interests as charged, they are not fit to be governor, candidate Ben Garland said here Tuesday.

Garland, who calls himself the "anti-vice candidate" for governor, read the following headline from Sunday's Journal-Constitution: "Liquor Taking Over Top Campaign Role." Then he commented: "This is true, and my No. 1 plank calls for a bone-dry referendum."

Garland said he was glad to see the other candidates and the newspapers admit that liquor is the main issue in the campaign.

He declared it is not democracy when temperance committees in the House and Senate are stacked so as to prevent prohibition bills from reaching the floor for debate.

Grand Jury Hears 4 Witnesses

By RICHARD ASHWORTH

Four persons—one of them unidentified—testified before the Fulton County Grand Jury Tuesday as the jury continued its investigation of liquor licenses, and State Revenue Commissioner Charles Redwins is scheduled to appear before the jury Friday.

Appearing before the jury Tuesday were Fulton Criminal Court Judge Luther Alverson, A. W. Lyle, an attorney; J. G. Dickey, who identified himself as a commercial builder, and another man who gave his name as "Mr. Joe Jones of Peters Street."

"LIQUOR BUSINESS"

One witness, who asked not to be quoted by name, said: "We talked about the liquor business."

Judge Alverson told reporters he "appreciated the invitation" to appear before the jury but had no comment "on what the grand jury is doing." Lyle and Dickey also declined comment on their appearances.

The unidentified witness, who entered the jury room following Judge Alverson's departure, first told reporters to "call me Mr. Jones." After prompting, he added he could be called "Joe Jones." He said his address was Peters street, "because I like it."

30 MINUTES

The tall, slightly balding witness, appeared to be about 40 years of age. He could not be identified by employes in the Fulton solicitor general's office. He left the jury room after about 30 minutes.

Jury Foreman Edgar Schukraft also declined comment on the day's session.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Redwine had been asked to appear Tuesday but was out of the city. His office confirmed he had been asked to appear at 1 p.m. Friday.

The jury turned to its investigation after returning six routine indictments before 11 a.m. Tuesday. Schukraft said Friday the jury would continue its probe of "the liquor situation," especially issuing of licenses for beer and wine, "pouring" permits, and an "apparent monopoly" in retail liquor distribution.

Griffin Stresses Platform, Ignores Thompson Again

By ALBERT RILEY
Constitution Staff Writer

NEWNAN, Aug. 17—Marvin Griffin appeared Tuesday to be easing up in his campaign attacks on M. E. Thompson in the sixth week of the drive for Georgia's governorship.

The apparent switch in tactics became evident here as Griffin for the second straight day practically ignored Thompson's candidacy and concentrated on his own platform in his campaign speeches.

Griffin barely mentioned Thompson in an Atlanta speech Monday night. He did not mention Thompson at all here Tuesday and made only a few unflattering comparisons between Thompson's 1947-48 administration and the present Talmadge regime.

SKIPS ARNALL

The lieutenant governor also studiously avoided any reference to former Gov. Ellis Arnall here in the home town of Arnall who is supporting Thompson.

Defending himself against charges that he pardoned himself for a contempt of court conviction while serving as executive secretary to Gov. E. D. Rivers, Griffin said the only thing he can find in the Atlanta papers every day is "vicious, malicious, unwarranted attacks on my personal integrity."

"NOT TELLING TRUTH"

Charging that the Atlanta papers "are not telling the people of Georgia the truth" on their stand on segregation, Griffin said he has been challenging the papers for six weeks to take a stand.

"Have they taken a stand?" he shouted. And persons in the crowd yelled back, "No!"

"They can't take a stand," he continued. "How can the foreign-owned Atlanta press be for mixing the races in the schools of Ohio and Florida and not in Georgia?"

Reaffirming his vows to preserve segregation, Griffin asked another question: "Is a fellow a race-baiter simply because he preaches what is best for whites and Negroes to continue our policy of segregation and the Georgia way of life? That's not preaching racial prejudice," he insisted.

"DIDN'T PARDON SELF"

On the pardon charges, Griffin said: "I never did say I didn't sign the pardon. I didn't pardon myself. I didn't have the authority to do so, but I aggravated the man who did." The pardon records are open for the public to see, Griffin said, "and nobody has tampered with it, either."

Devoting most of his speech to his platform, Griffin emphasized the need for forest conservation to feed pulp industries and aid Georgia's economy and the need for water conservation and irrigation development to combat drought. He got applause for his advocacy of a rural road-building authority.

En route here, Griffin shook hands at Hampton, Stockbridge and Fayetteville. Apparently seeking the support in Fayetteville of friends of Revenue Commissioner Charles D. Redwine who lives there, Griffin got a helping hand from Sen. Harry Redwine, who escorted him around town.

Grady Posts 1st '54 Death From Polio

The first polio fatality of the year at Grady Hospital was recorded Monday with the death of 6-year-old James Irwin Chapman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Chapman Sr. of 627 Quillian Ave., SE.

The child, whose condition was described as a bulbar type, was one of six polio patients admitted since Saturday; 12 remain at the hospital.

Although this time of year is a peak period for the disease, Dr. W. J. Murphy, chief of the Georgia Health Department's epidemiology branch, said the current peak is "not significantly greater than usual."

The Chapman child was admitted Sunday afternoon and grew worse until his death about noon.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Austell Methodist Church.

Besides his parents, survivors include a brother Michael, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Griffith of Austell and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Chapman of Atlanta.

Albany Pair Seek Return For Devices

Two Albany men Tuesday filed suits in U.S. District Court here seeking to recover their investments in gambling machines they claim were illegally destroyed by a U.S. marshal.

The plaintiffs, W. C. Hewitt and H. E. Bedenbaugh, contend FBI agents seized the devices and they were destroyed by Marshal Edward B. Doyle on Nov. 29, 1951, several weeks before a federal ban went into effect prohibiting their shipment in interstate commerce.

Bedenbaugh is demanding $20,000 for 51 machines and Hewitt is asking $12,000 for 12 others. Defendant in the suit is the National Surety Corp. of New York, bonding company for the marshal.

Redwine Denies Liquor Permit in Area at Augusta

State Revenue Commissioner Charles Redwine has stated again that he will issue no new liquor licenses on Sand Bar Ferry drive near Augusta.

Revenue Department agents told Redwine that Augustine had trouble with the authorities in South Carolina, where he previously operated, including the question of actual ownership.

Redwine said that since Sand Bar Ferry drive is being developed as a residential area, "I don't think I'll issue any more licenses there."

By M. L. ST. JOHN
Constitution Political Editor

BARNESVILLE, Aug. 17—Apparently determined not to swap blows with opponents who are slashing at him, gubernatorial candidate M. E. Thompson told a crowd here Tuesday night:

"I want to set an example that will tell any candidate in the future that if he runs down a muddy road he will slip and fall."

Thompson, paraphrasing Kipling's poem, "If," said he is trying desperately to keep his temper while being lied about. He said that he has only three more weeks to endure this before election day. He expressed confidence in a first-ballot victory.

The former acting governor made a bid for Lamar County's two unit votes which he missed in 1950 by only 40 popular votes.

3 TIMES AS LARGE

The crowd that heard him here Tuesday night was about three times as large as the one that attended his meeting here in 1950.

Supporters donated a heifer to be auctioned to raise campaign funds for Thompson. The candidate stopped the auction by getting permission to "buy" the heifer himself with a $1 bid. "Please don't anyone bid against me," Thompson begged the group. "I want this heifer for my own farm."

As he took the heifer, Thompson said he would name it "Sukey III" to go with "Sukey" and "Sukey Jr." already on his farm near Waldosta. He said he would never sacrifice this campaign gift.

INTRODUCED BY MAYOR

The mayor of Barnesville, Henry Hunt, introduced Thompson. He called the candidate "one of Georgia's outstanding statesmen."

Among those sitting on the stage with Thompson were Marvin Reid, clerk of court of Lamar County, and Rep. L. F. Lifsey. Lifsey, who attempted to get Gov. Talmadge drafted for another term, sat on the stage with candidate Marvin Griffin recently—and pointed out that he is not publicly pledged to any gubernatorial candidate.

Thompson supporters came here from Pike County, Upson, Butts, Meriwether and other counties. Charlie Morgan Jr. was master of ceremonies.

AID TO CITIES

To Mayor Hunt, Thompson publicly renewed his promise to sponsor state aid to cities.

"For a number of years, the state has refunded the counties a certain amount of taxes to assist in maintaining county roads," Thompson said. "That amounted to about $9,000,000 last year. Unlike many other states, though, Georgia has never refunded a dime to cities. I favor giving the cities similar state assistance in building and maintaining their streets and sidewalks."

Thompson will speak at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Americus, where he once served as a state school supervisor.

Judges Selected for Driver Contest; Winners To Get Awards Sept. 15

They are Miss Marion Faircloth, Savannah; Charles G. Bruce, senior judge of Fulton County Criminal Court; Col. W. C. Dominy, State Patrol director; Grady Cochran, Ft. Valley police chief, and Dale Hudson, Sylvester sheriff.

Each week State Patrol members spot their choices for the most courteous man and woman drivers and send reasons for their selections to the council office. At the end of August judges will review the reports to name the two winners.

Savings bonds and merchandise prizes will be awarded the winning man and woman drivers at the Loew's Grand Theater Sept. 15.

SCOTTIE TRUBY GETTING RIDE FROM BROTHER BILL JR.

"THIS WAY FOR YOUR SOFT DRINKS," SAYS NORMAN
William and Norman Wood, Chris Carter and Linda Carter

'Pennies' Creating Downpour

By YOLANDE GWIN

Tomorrow's financial wizards are today's small fry.

Summertime jobs with pay scales ranging from ten cents an hour to proceeds from weekly sales at a soft drink stand, have the youngsters counting their "pennies from heaven."

Baby-sitting, an ever popular job with the teenage set, especially during the winter season, is usually an after school job.

But there must be care takers for the babies in summer, too. It is proving a profitable business for the three young sons of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Truby.

WAGE RANGE

Baby brother, Scottie, must have his ride in his stroller every day. Brothers Bill Jr., 12,, David 11, and Duke, 8, make ten cents for walking their 8-month-old baby brother. Wages for baby-sitting with him come a little higher. They get twenty-five cents.

Norman Wood has made enough money from his soft drink stand to have spending money for a late summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wood.

"My customers are mostly the neighbors," he says, "but lots of motorists stop for a drink."

'CARETAKERS'

The drought has been a disaster to the farmers, but it has reaped a nice financial harvest for Mary Ann Lambert and her brother, John Lambert Jr.

"I pay them ten cents for watering the lawn," says Mrs. Lambert. "John uses the watering can for the flower beds, while Mary Ann takes care of the lawn, usually with the hose."

Ronnie and David Williamson "think" they might want a permanent job as decorators when they are grown. They have amassed a neat little sum helping their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Williamson, repaint the woodwork in their home on Highland view.

"The boys have been paid twenty-five cents a day for their painting," says their mother. "They've been giving the woodwork and part of the walls the first coat. My husband gives it the second and finishing coat."

The boys—Ronnie, 7, and David, 5,—have done a good job with their painting, according to their mother and haven't spilled a drop of paint on the carpeting nor the floors.

Insurance Club Plans Meeting

Members of the Atlanta Insurance Women's Club will meet Friday from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the Orchard Room of the Peachtree Hotel.

Mrs. Doris Feldmen, president, says the meeting will be primarily a time of getting acquainted for the members.

Zeta Tau Alpha Alums To Meet

An outdoor luncheon meeting for members of the Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae Association is planned for 12:30 o'clock Friday at the home of Mrs. Homer Edwards at 67 Putnam Circle, Northwest.

Activities for the active chapters in Georgia colleges will be discussed.

NEWCOMERS TO ATLANTA DIET ON HICKORY AND HORSEHIDE

'Diamond' Wife Gets Baseball Diet

By BETTY CARROLLTON

Hickory and horsehide are the Thompson's bread and butter.

But Glenn Thompson, newest member of the Atlanta Crackers baseball team, and his pretty wife, Jean, have suffered no ill effects from their baseball diet. Their husky 6-months-old son, Scotty, is flourishing, too.

"Diamonds may be a girl's best friend," Jean jokes, "but a baseball diamond can be a wife's worst enemy."

Life as a pitcher's wife is pretty hectic, she admits, but mostly its a good life. "Especially if you like to travel, as I do," Jean elaborates. "And there are lots of advantages, like spring training in Florida and seeing plenty of good baseball games free of charge."

LIKES "DIAMOND"

Jean, an avid diamond fan, says she "works as hard as Glenn" when he's on the mound. Young Scotty, however, takes a more relaxed view of the situation.

The Thompsons came to Atlanta from Toledo, Ohio, three weeks ago and have found the Dogwood City "very hot but very hospitable." Jean met Glenn in her hometown, Evansville, Ind., in 1948 when he was playing with the Evansville Braves. They were married in 1950.

Jean attends nearly all the home games but seldom goes "on the road." And she doesn't gripe when the weatherman predicts rain. "Rainy days are about the only ones we have together," she says, "so I welcome them!"

When a game is called off because of rain, the Thompsons go to movies or play scrabble.

NOT A PITCHER

"I wouldn't mind Scotty being a baseball player," Jean says, "but I don't want him to be a pitcher. Of course, nearly every wife thinks her husband's position is the worst one on the team."

"If Glenn loses a game, we never discuss it," Jean points out, "but when he wins, we recall practically every pitch."

If Jean disagrees with an umpire's decision at a game, she does so silently.

"I keep reminding Glenn that arguing with an umpire is worse than arguing with a judge," she says, "but I can't say that I've convinced him."

The 6-foot-4 pitcher, whose blazing fast balls are a terror to opponents, moans:

"For some reason the baby always does better with Jean than he does with me. Guess he just runs over me."

Cosmopolitan Tourists See America First Hand!

By MARY DENMARK

Eight visitors from Europe and Africa have been giving Atlanta the once over for the past four days.

The group is here to study agriculture, business, government and family life in various parts of the United States.

In each city they visit, the young people, who pay their own way on the tour, stay in private homes to help keep expenses down. Civic organizations, clubs and church groups also give assistance to the travelers who find that the dollar exchange works against them.

WIDE INTERESTS

The eight members of the group have interests that are as diverse as their homelands.

Swedish Per Erik Nilsson, who is mad for banana splits (which he's just discovered), is an architect, interested chiefly in town planning.

Prospective chemist Jean Paul Letournelle, Paris, France, has already taken over 250 pictures of the American scene since his July 19 arrival. Raymond Roos, also of France, like many American young men, is waiting for the draft to catch up with him in October.

Both Jean Paul and Raymond gave rave reviews on American cooking. But they don't like our appetizers, jelly and root beer.

MANY OCCUPATIONS

M. Z. Ahmad Malik, a native of Kenya, is a London law student. Klaus Cremer, Konigswinter, Germany, working on his doctorate in agriculture, hopes to settle someday in Canada or the United States. T. Gwynn-Jones, Wales, teaches English, a "foreign language," to Welch school children.

For Dr. and Mrs. Gian Antonio de Ferrare, industrial chemists from Milan, Italy, the tour is considerably more than a sightseeing trip. They were married recently and traveling through America is an extension of their honeymoon.

Leaders of the group are Mr. and Mrs. William W. Reynolds, musicians from New York City.

The Atlanta part of the tour was sponsored by the Atlanta Committee for Friendly Relations of Foreign Students, YWCA International Club, the Council of Jewish Women, and the Council of Christian Women.

Next stop is Lexington, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Dodd Jr. of Rome announce the birth of a daughter, Martha Wickliffe, on Sunday. Mrs. Dodd is the former Louise Cousins of Rome and Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scott of Pensacola announce the birth of a daughter, Lucy Anna, on Wednesday. Mrs. Scott is the former Anna Flanigen of East Lake.

P. S. You'll love Dottie!

Couple Is Married At Church

The Rev. Nat G. Long officiated at the marriage of his daughter, Miss Olive Long, to Elmer Owen Kellum Jr., which was solemnized Tuesday evening at the Peachtree Road Methodist Church.

After the ceremony, he and Mrs. Long entertained at a reception in the Great Hall at the church for their daughter and Mr. Kellum.

Miss Eugenia Culberson of Lyons was maid of honor for her cousin, and serving as bridesmaids were the bride's Wesleyan College roommates, Miss Susan Thigpen of Windsor, N.C., and Miss Kathleen Harper of Thomasville, Miss Nancy Loemker and Mrs. Edwin Turlington of Atlanta.

The bride's small sister, Susan Long, was flower girl, and David Gurley of Jefferson was ring bearer. John A. Long gave his niece in marriage.

Mr. Kellum chose his father, Owen Kellum Sr., as best man, and his groomsmen were Nat Long Jr., Dick Perkins, Harold McDonald Jr., all of Atlanta, and Albert Harris of Macon.

After a wedding trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., and New York City, the couple will reside at 806 W. Club Blvd., Durham, N.C., where Mr. Kellum will study at the Divinity School of Duke University for the next two years.

Miss Sturgis Marries Mr. Boone

A reception on the terrace of the Druid Hills Golf Club followed the marriage of Miss Ann Sturgis to Alfred Glenn Boone Jr. of Atlanta, which took place Tuesday evening at Peachtree Christian Church. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sturgis, were hosts at the reception.

Dr. Robert W. Burns officiated at the nuptial service. Mr. Boone is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Boone of Florida and Lake Lure, N.C., who came to Atlanta for the wedding. The bridegroom chose his father as his best man.

Mr. Sturgis gave his daughter in marriage, and Mrs. C. H. Ellison III was her matron of honor. Mrs. H. C. Johnson Jr. of Columbia, S.C., and Mrs. George C. Woodruff Jr. of Columbus were bridesmaids.

William Brooker and James Boone served as Mr. Boone's groomsmen, and ushering were: G. Everett Millican, H. G. Russell, F. C. Rogers, C. C. Jinks, Marvin Russell and Arnold Mitchell.

Mr. Boone and his bride boarded a plane to Miami, from where they will fly to Nassau for their honeymoon. Upon their return they will move into their new home at 4068 Statenwood Rd.

Mountain Fair, 'Living It Up'

HIAWASSEE—Well, I never thought they'd get it together, this mountain fair, I mean. When we walked in the Towns County High School gym in the morning, there was Mrs. E. N. Nicholson, fair secretary, moving about at a dead gallop with a mouth full of nails and her hands full of crepe paper. Her husband, who is business manager of the fair, puffed by holding up one end of a display case. E. C. Nicholson, the fair president, had a dazed expression on his face and a bushel of apples in his arms.

The women of Friendship Community and Woods Grove at Pleasant Hill and Nacoochee Valley were half buried under a welter of pine tops, handmade quilts, strawberry preserves and something I had never seen before—dozens of tiny ruby ears of strawberry-topped popcorn. Of course, they worked themselves out of it—how, I'll never know—but by nightfall when the star-studded ferris wheel began turning slowly in the velvety darkness, Georgia Mountain Fair was a going concern. In fact, it has, I imagine, one thing in common with heaven—something for everybody.

Children go wild over the midway, and it's pleasant at night to see a country family encamped on the grass at the edge of the showground, the mother placidly nursing the youngest while the other children, little barefoot, overall-clad boys, and girls with hair the color of sourwood honey, make joyful forays into the world of merry-go-rounds and flyin gjennies .

City folks—and the hills and valleys are full of them just now—go about wistfully examining the jewel-toned jars of preserves and jellies, the mounds of gold and scarlet tomatoes as big as salad plates, and heaps of polished, gleaming apples. The wildlife exhibit with a real waterfall in one corner of the room and live animals and snakes and wildflowers all about, thrilled all of us, young and old, urban and rural residents alike.

As for me, I'm torn. I can't stay away from the old mountain cabin with its pine-postered bed under a hand-woven coverlet, the little cradle in which five generations have slept since it was made by Mrs. Zeke Ross's grandfather, Charles Anthony, in 1817, and the quaint old kitchen with its gourds and strings of peppers and sage.

But then there is the exhibit assembled by M. C. Myers, who teaches wood working at Young Harris College, and travels over the mountains collecting the finest of hand-made pottery, rugs, corn-shuck dolls and hearthbrooms to display along with his own beautiful wooden bowls, trays and little peg-legged tables. (I came out of there with a hand-carved hound puppy, as enchanting as a real dog.)

And Jim Stoinoff's Indian relic and jewel collection is endlessly fascinating. Mr. Stoinoff, who divides his time between Towns County and Miami, collects precious and semi-precious stones from the lake banks and fields and cuts and polishes them under your eyes at the fair. He is a former University of Georgia football player who took up Indian relics as a hobby six years ago and has collected thousands of arrowheads, most of them from this section, which, he said, was more thickly populated in the days of the Cherokee Indian than it is today.

Then there is the old show—Mrs. J. C. Pipton's coverlet, wood sugar bucket, candle-holders and cruet, all are over a hundred years old. There are children's funny little button shoes put together with wood pegs. These belong to Dink Waters and R. R. Eller, of Ellijay and a "walking saddle" used by an itinerant preacher of another day. This is a stout piece of oak, carved to fit the shoulder with a curve for a hand hold in front and a slot, carved in the shape of a man's head, to hold the satchel strap in the back. (This belongs to Ed Hill of Ellijay.)

I never thought they'd get it together but they did and it's a fine fair.

Your Stars Today

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! A big week now, but go easy on plans as delays and obligations may slow you up until next June.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Early best for fishing of two days' activity.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Keep quietly in background preparing start of extra activity tomorrow on domestic scene.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Friends may prove rather vague so don't expect good advice. Check travel plans for tomorrow carefully.

CANCER (June 21-July 22). Stick to the important issues dealing with career or business, watching financial aspects mostly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Get ready to talk your way out of this one, or into it, as the case may be.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Some secret may break out soon, but today watch out for confusing angles or rumors. Make no move.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). Another one of those frequent days when issues are confused.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). Keep working and ignore possible gossip.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Be social, but be wary of friends promising too much.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). It must be difficult for you to wait any longer, but you musn't be too headstrong or rash.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Neighborhood activities best. Wide publicity possible tomorrow so be ready to make constructive use of it.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Emphasis tomorrow again on your work and co-workers, so be ready. Today keep money angle in mind.

A WEEKLY ADVERTISING COLUMN OF THINGS NEW AND INTERESTING

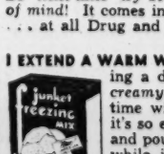

New York, Aug. 18—I'm proud of my thrifty meals . . . for I've learned how to give them an elegant party air. And it's so easy . . . I dress them up with BinB Broiled in Butter Mushrooms! They really perform miracles . . . because they're tender hothouse mushrooms broiled to a golden brown in rich, creamery butter . . . then packed in their own luscious broth. Furthermore, since there's no peeling, no trimming and no waste, BinB Mushrooms are economical, so get all 3 styles today and delight your family tonight with:

Grilled tomatoes topped with BinB Whole Mushroom Crowns . . . or noodle casserole sparked with BinB Sliced Mushrooms . . . or creamed tuna glorified with BinB Chopped Mushrooms.

YOU CAN SWIM AND PLAY every day of the month, if you depend on TAMPAX for sanitary protection . . . for it's worn and absorbs internally! Just imagine how free you'll be with no bulky pads, belts and pins to "show" or make you uncomfortable . . . and no chafing or odor to worry about! But besides being the coolest, most comfortable kind of protection you can use, TAMPAX is easy to dispose of and to carry, too . . . because it's made of pure surgical cotton in small, throwaway applicators! So "next time" try TAMPAX . . . for freedom and peace of mind! It comes in 3 absorbency-sizes (Regular, Super and Junior) . . . at all Drug and Notion Counters.

I EXTEND A WARM WELCOME to visitors during the Summer by serving a dish of refreshing homemade ice cream . . . the creamy-rich, velvet-smooth kind you can make every time with "JUNKET" BRAND FREEZING MIX! And it's so easy . . . you simply whip it into milk and cream and pour it into the refrigerator tray . . . no need to stir while it freezes! And besides making real ice cream with old-fashioned goodness (but without the work!), "JUNKET" FREEZING MIX also makes a delicious-to-taste Frozen Dessert when you use fresh or evaporated milk . . . oh-so easy on your budget. Comes in your favorite flavors, too . . . Vanilla, Strawberry, Chocolate and Black Raspberry!

THE SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL SUMMERTIME SLIMMING is this . . . keep your pep up while you keep your calories down! A problem? Not at all . . . just serve FLORIDA Grapefruit salads and desserts. That's what I do . . . because FLORIDA Grapefruit Sections (frozen or canned) are high in Vitamin C . . . the buoyant, health giving vitamin you need each day (even more so in hot weather!). And they're low in calories . . . as well as so delicious and naturally satisfying you won't mind turning down rich foods and eating FLORIDA Grapefruit salads and desserts instead. So keep plenty of FLORIDA Grapefruit Sections on hand . . . for your health and happiness!

Earl Blackwell Plans International Party

Since the big ball he gave last winter in Palm Beach, that former Atlantan, Earl Blackwell, bids fair to out-rival Elsa Maxwell as the country's No. 1 party-giver. Now he has issued invitations to an international party to be given during the Italian Film Festival in Venice on Aug. 30 that will probably cinch the title for the popular president of New York's Celebrity Service.

The affair, which is called a "Celebrity Party," will be a costume event, with guests coming as any personality of the period 1900 to 1950. Since the guests themselves, in their own right, will be top world personalities, the party promises to be sensational.

Mr. Blackwell, who was recently appointed American co-ordinator for the Film Festival, flew to Italy early this month to complete plans for the event. Among those who have accepted his invitation are Count and Countess Crespi, Lord and Lady Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warner, Errol Flynn, Marlene Dietrich, Lili Palmer, Rock Hudson, Van Johnson, Judy Garland, Audrey Hepburn, Mel Ferrer, Eva Gabor, Mrs. Lorelle Hearst, Mrs. Clark Williams and Lady Sylvia Ashley.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE SUGGS of Upper Montclair, N.J., who are guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Langford of Oxford road, will leave the last of the week to visit Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Read at Cashiers, N.C.

Their son, Guerry, who has been enrolled for the summer at Camp Carolina, arrived Tuesday to visit his grandparents.

THOSE FORMER ATLANTANS, Mr. and Mrs. Everett N. Brown of Fort Lauderdale, have arrived at the Georgian Terrace for their annual visit of several months. They plan to spend the Labor Day weekend at their cabin at Gatlinburg, Tenn.

MRS. OLIN COFER and Mrs. Norman W. Gibson will be co-hostesses at a morning coffee on Wednesday at the Cofer home on Lullwater road in compliment to bride-elect Ann Elizabeth Jones.

Miss Jones' marriage to Dr. Guy Calk, nephew of Mrs. Cofer, will take place Aug. 28. The pair first met 10 years ago when the bride-elect played the harp in the wedding of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Gregory in which Dr. Calk was an attendant.

HAVING LEFT TUESDAY for New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Escott of College Park will board a plane Thursday for a month's visit to Europe. They will go direct to Germany to be guests of their son and daughter, M/Sgt. and Mrs. Quillian T. Thomas, who have been stationed in Frankfurt for two years.

The Escotts will tour Germany, Switzerland and Italy with Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas and their son, Jimmy. En route home they will visit Paris, London and Glasgow, arriving in New York the middle of September.

AFTER VACATIONING for two weeks at Sebago Lake Maine, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Sims returned Sunday to their home on Rivers road. Their daughter, Linda, will arrive Wednesday from Camp Deerwoode, Brevard, N.C.

TO WED FRIDAY
Miss Betty Ruth Mullis

Miss Mullis To Marry

SCREVEN, Aug. 17—Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mullis announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betty Ruth Mullis, to Freddie Gene Hodge of Screven. The wedding will take place at 8 o'clock Friday evening, Aug. 20 at O'Quinn Baptist Church.

Miss Mullis attended Jones Business College in Jacksonville. She has been employed as secretary to Jones Lumber Co. for several months.

Mr. Hodge, son of Mrs. Mattie Hodge and the late David M. Hodge, is a graduate of Screven High School. He is assistant viscose and physical tester for Rayonier, Inc., Jesup.

'Hairy' Coats Enter Fashion

Coats for teens and subteens this coming fall have a great many new fashion points, and will be shown in a wide assortment of fabrics. Fleece, chinchilla, tweed, zibeline, bolivia and cut piles are the significant big six that will vie for popularity.

Fleeces are the best bet for coat fabric success at all price ranges and sizes. Combined with cashmere, mohair and synthetic fibers, they take on a soft, furry hand and luxury look. The influence of hairy surface is seen in zibeline finish fleeces with pinline stripes and checks for added interest.

Tweeds, for dressy as well as casual styles, appear in diagonals, herringbones and chevron patterns, predominantly in subdued colorings. Velvet is used in new ways for trimmings. In addition to the traditional velvet collars and cuffs, velvet insets at neckline and wrists give added emphasis to detailing.

Parties Fete Bride-Elect, Miss Laird and Fiance

Miss Dorothy Laird and her fiance, George S. Williams, have set their marriage for an evening ceremony at the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist Church on Friday, Sept. 10, with a reception to be given afterwards at the Piedmont Driving Club by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cody Laird.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Healey, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hopkins Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pegram Jr. will be co-hosts at a cocktail supper next Friday evening at the Driving Club in compliment to the bridal pair. Saturday, Mrs. Charles Saussy will entertain at a shower for Miss Laird at the home of Mrs. Hugh Saussy, and that evening Mr. and Mrs. Ted Forbes Jr. will give a supper party for her and Mr. Williams.

The Argonne drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins will be the scene of a cocktail party for the couple on Aug. 27, with Mr. and Mrs. Collins, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Poer and Dr. and Mrs. Carter Smith as hosts. The next day, Aug. 28, Mrs. Samuel Hart and Mrs. O. K. Sheffield will give a morning coffee for the bride-to-be.

Another coffee is that at which Mrs. William D. Owens and her mother, Mrs. Forest Cameron, will be hostesses on Aug. 31. That evening Miss Mary Ann Mills will fete Miss Laird at a kitchen shower. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Storza have planned a cocktail party for the pair, the affair to be given Sept. 2 at their Randall Mill road residence.

Mrs. T. C. Davison and her daughter, Margaret, will entertain at cocktails on Sept. 4.

James Jacques, Sonny Cobb and Jack Gill will give a bachelor's dinner for the future bridegroom on Sept. 7, and at the same time Mrs. Benson Ford will honor the bride-elect at a bridesmaids' supper at her home on Tuxedo road. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weil of Cambridge, Mass., will be hosts at cocktails on Sept. 8. Mrs. Weil is the former Deenie Sandison, and the party will be held at her parents' home on Nancy Creek road.

Concluding the prenuptial party series will be the rehearsal dinner at which Miss Laird's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dobbs Jr., will be hosts at the Driving Club on Sept. 9.

Skirt Information

Skirt silhouettes vary with size ranges. Straightline separate skirts are favored for the sub-teen and teen-agers. Inverted back pleats, adaptations of the English walker and skirts with released pleats near the hemline are strongest in straight styles. In the 7-14 range, skirts with modified flares, circular and tiered lines are important.

Box jackets and classic blazers vie with modified Eisenhower types for attention. Knitted cuffs, and sometimes knitted necklines are common to boxy and Eisenhower styles.

MRS. H. E. STOESSEL

Before her marriage to Mr. Stoessel, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stoessel of Long Beach, Miss., Mrs. Stoessel was Miss Dorothy Grace Whitner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whitner. The ceremony took place at Central Presbyterian Chapel on Saturday.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

Only non-smear type lipstick made with 'Lanolite' ... Revlon's own discovery — 3-ways better than lanolin itself! 1. keeps lips smoother than lanolin. 2. supplies more moisture than lanolin. 3. protects lips longer than lanolin. Blot or don't blot ... either way, this new lipstick stays on longer!

No more dry, chapped lips! Many non-smear lipsticks leave lips feeling dry and 'pinched'. Your lips are apt to feel chapped—you can actually see them drying and aging!

For moist, luscious, younger-looking lips! You never thought a lipstick could look so luscious, feel so good, last so long as new 'Lanolite' lipstick! And you need never worry about dry lips again!

Why do 9 out of 10 beauty salons use REVLON NAIL ENAMEL?

Because only Revlon creates 33 fashion-genius colors! And only Revlon stays on so long —actually helps nails grow longer, too!* That's why 9 out of 10 salons use and recognize Revlon as the only professional nail enamel. .60 plus tax

Robert Donat

"The Sire de Maletroit's Door" will star Robert Donat and Renee Ascherson on the Royal Theater. Sir Laurence Olivier will introduce the Robert Louis Stevenson classic.—WSB-Radio at 9:30 p.m.

"Make Believe," the story of how our soldiers undergo intensive training and maneuvers to keep them alert will be presented on Proudly We Hail.—WSB-Radio at 10:30 p.m.

SCHEDULE CHANGE

Heart of the City, formerly seen Tuesday nights, moves to a new Wednesday spot. Pat McVey and Jane Nigh co-star.—Channel 2 at 10:30 p.m.

Andrews, Turner Bout Slated for 9

Gil Turner, of Philadelphia, meets rough and tumble Al Andrews, of Superior, Wis., in what promises to be an interesting 10-round battle Wednesday night at 9 on WAGA-TV.

Turner, who has piled up a string of 32 straight victories as a welterweight, decided to enter the middleweight division after fighting Kid Gavilan for the welterweight crown and losing. The 24-year-old fighter has won 42 out of 48 bouts, 30 via the knockout route.

The 23-year-old Andrews, who has scored victories over Chuck Davies and Chuck Foster, hopes to establish himself in the front ranks of welterweight contenders by a victory over Turner. Andrews has had 37 professional bouts, winning 28, losing seven and dividing two decisions.

Students' Art Display Remains

Sinatra, Calloway, Tapps To Join Skelton on TV

Frank Sinatra, Cab Calloway and Georgie Tapps will be the guest stars of Red Skelton on the "Red Skelton Revue" at 7 p.m. on WAGA-TV.

Singer Sinatra will be seen vocalizing "The Gal That Got Away," "Foggy Day" and "Half as Lovely." Skelton, in his new role as host, will interview Frankie for his many fans.

Cab Callaway, orchestra leader and star of the current hit version of Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," will be featured in two big production numbers. Dancing star Georgie Tapps will be spotlighted in a fast-paced rhythm number and in a ballet sequence with the Redettes.

Red Skelton will star in two comedy skits — as Freddie the Freeloader in "A Day in the Life of a Bum," and as Slippery in a drama tending to disprove the idealistic notion that "walls do not a prison make."

Newsroom Sets Prizes For Contest

Ray Moore currently is conducting a contest on the Weathervane portion of WSB-TV's Newsroom (nightly at 10 p.m.), in which the winner will receive a 21-inch Westinghouse television set.

The contest will run five weeks. During the first four weeks personalized portable radios will be awarded, with a television set to be awarded in the fifth week runoff.

1. What day of the week do you expect the most rainfall to occur?
2. What will be the amount of rainfall on that day?
3. What will be the high and low temperatures on that day?

Salazar Puts Nehru on the Spot

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—In the India - Portugal tension, Prime Minister Salazar told India: "If there is any Western country whose hand India can take without fear in territory adjacent to her own, that country is Portugal." And Salazar, in those few words, put Nehru right on the spot. . . . Sonja Henie's newest escort, Ricki de la Vega. . . . The Blancke Noyeses (Secretary of Air Harold Talbott's daughter, Peggy) named her Audrey Elstner.

Ed Sullivan

Mrs. Danny Kaye at Mayo Clinic. . . . Ava Gardner sat out her six-week stay in Nevada but neglected to get the divorce. Frankie is screaming. . . .

Liberace will have to feature lullabies. The Rudy Liberaces (his brother) expect Sir Stork. . . . Marie Wilson's ex, Allan Nixon, and Christina Hammond honeymooning.

Her colleagues in "A Star Is Born" believe Judy Garland is expecting little Luft. . . . Clark Gable and Kay Spreckels steady-dating. . . . Fulton Ousler Jr. to wed Anne Nevill.

Eddie Fisher back from Europe on the 19th, flies to the coast and Debbie Raynolds. . . . Cary Grant telephones Babs Hutton each week in Tangier. . . . The Marty Kimmell-Gloria De Haven Nevada decree set for the 25th.

Mike Todd and Joe Schenck chilled, but Todd gets the biggest slice of each Magna process picture. . . . Johnnie Ray to Australia, Sept. 10. . . . Gregory Peck's wife, Greta, being consoled by Paramount's Stephan Arnsten. . . . "Your Time Is My Time" a catchy title for Rudy Vallee's memoirs.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark.

Market Stumbles In Closing Trade

Selloff Erases Upward Trend; Steels Under Heavy Pressure

By ARTHUR MERIMS

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—The stock market ended lower today, reversing an upward trend in the final hour. Oils and motors, which sustained the market's upward movement through most of the session, ended firm. But railroads, utilities and motion pictures departed from the plus column during the late selloff. And radio-television and mining issues became irregular. Mail order houses and airlines were generally higher.

Steels were under selling pressure all day. When Rep. Celler (D-NY) called on the Justice Department to block a merger of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube, the downtrend deepened.

E. T. Weir, chairman of National Steel Corp., said he saw "very little prospect" of improvement in steel production in this country in an afternoon press conference. His comment further depressed the market.

AIRCRAFTS NEGLECTED

Aircrafts, market leaders in recent sessions, were surprisingly neglected most of the day. But during the late selloff, they were subject to profit-taking. So were chemicals.

The early upsurge followed by a market reversal generated a lusty 2,900,000-share volume, up from yesterday's 2,760,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 50 cents from its 25-year peak to $134.20. The industrial component was off 80 cents, railroads 50 cents and utilities slipped 20 cents.

There were 1,218 issues traded against 1,226 yesterday. Of these, 446 climbed and 544 declined. There were 128 new 1954 highs established and only three new lows.

VOLUME SLOWS

Trading started extremely fast with many large blocks changing hands. The pace remained rapid throughout the morning and into the afternoon, when volume slowed. Trading increased during the final hour selloff.

Packard Motors and Studebaker sparked the motors upward after stockholders of both companies approved merger terms. Packard closed unchanged at 2¾. Studebaker ended up ⅝ at 19⅜.

Northrop Aircraft opened up 3½ points at 45 on a block of 15,000 shares after directors voted to split the stock. Northrop ended up 3¼ at 44¾. The gain had no effect on the generally depressed aircrafts.

OTHER KEY QUOTATIONS

Thompson Products also jumped 2¼ points at 84¼ on a stock split. Other key quotations included: Bethlehem Steel 77 off 1¼, Youngstown Sheet 59⅜ off 1½, Chrysler 59½ up ⅝, Goodrich 102¼ up 1½, Montgomery Ward 70¼ up 2¼, Douglas Aircraft 84½ off 2, Radio Corp. 33⅝ off ⅜, American Telephone 173¼ up ⅛, Allied Chemical 95½ off 1¾, Hilton Hotels 32 up 3½, Santa Fee 115 off ⅝, Standard Oil (NJ) 96⅜ up 1⅛ and Sinclair Oil 44¼ 70⅜.

The American Stock Exchange was irregular as volume climbed to 800,000 shares from 790,000 yesterday. Rumors of a stock split, which are common and often meaningless whenever a stock price becomes high, sent Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea up 33 points at one time. A&P ended at 205 up eight points.

Summer Trade Shows Slight Dip

By JIM MONTGOMERY

In the "good old summertime" people spend more money for recreation, travel and personal services while holding back on purchasing goods such as household items and apparel.

And that's just what is happening this month.

It was typified last week when retail sales across the nation fell slightly below the preceding week and the comparable 1953 period, according to Dun & Bradstreet.

Dixie sales also bettered last week's gain over a year ago in New England, the East, Midwest, Northwest and Pacific Coast. Dollar volume in the Southwest, with an improvement slightly above that of this region, led the nation percentage-wise.

Apparel sales here and elsewhere across the U. S. dipped last week as summer items lagged in popularity and trade in fall goods was too light to counteract the decline.

Although total food purchases were slightly below the preceding week, they were well above last year's figure. Coffee sales, however, still are about 10 per cent under a year ago.

Sales so far this year have been limited, but increasing demand is expected in the fall when larger screens will be available and color programming more frequent.

Wholesale Sales Still Down

Although wholesale sales in the South Atlantic States in June were 9 per cent better than in May, they still were 3 per cent below June a year ago, the Atlanta field office of the U. S. Commerce Department reported Tuesday. South Atlantic wholesale sales in the first half of 1954 were 5 per cent behind the same period of 1953. The section includes Georgia, Florida, the Carolinas and Virginias, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Mortgage Debt 69 Billion

America's total home mortgage debt now stands at $69 billion, including a $7.2 billion increase last year. So far in 1954 the volume of all home loans is 5 per cent ahead of the comparable period last year.

INDEPENDENT—Edward D. Smith, president of the First National Bank of Atlanta, accepts the first deposit made at the Atlanta General Depot branch of the bank from Bill Beeman, son of Col. A. W. Beeman, depot commander. It is the first completely independent bank at any military installation in the country.

Studebaker and Packard Stockholders Vote Merger

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (AP)—Stockholders of the Studebaker Corp. and Packard Motor Car Co. voted overwhelmingly today for a merger of the two companies.

The merger, to be completed within the next few weeks, brings together two of the oldest names in the auto industry. Combined they have assets of more than 251 million dollars; working capital of approximately 86 million and a net worth of nearly 179 million.

Votes of Studebaker shareholders were counted at Wilmington, Del. Almost 82 per cent of all Studebaker stock was represented and nearly 99 per cent favored the merger. Packard stockholders, voting in Detroit, represented nearly 83 per cent of the outstanding stock and almost 90 per cent voted for the consolidation.

Slated to become president of the new company is James J. Nance, 53-year-old president of Packard. Paul G. Hoffman, 63, board chairman of Studebaker, will be named to a similar post with Studebaker-Packard Corp., and Harold S. Vance, 63, president of Studebaker, will head the new company's executive committee.

Wheat, Beans Move Higher

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (AP)—Grains advanced under fairly urgent buying on the Board of Trade today, closing near the day's highs in most instances.

The market experienced two strong buying movements, one in the morning and another late in the session. Between times, dealings were slow with prices drifting downward.

September soybeans again were a feature of trading. It was up nearly 10 cents, the daily limit, at one time but lost several cents of its extreme gain by the finish.

Wheat closed 1⅜ to 2 cents higher, corn ¼-⅝ higher, oats ¼-⅝ higher, rye 2¼-2¾ higher, soybeans unchanged to 6¾ higher and lard 5 to 32 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Cotton Keeps Up Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Cotton futures continued to advance today, closing 35 to 95 cents a bale higher. Trade and commission house buying at one time extended gains to about $1.35 a bale, but the market later gave up part of the gains on profit-taking.

Hedge selling was light, notwithstanding some increase in spot cotton sales this week. Dealers said it is still too early for the crop to exert much selling pressure on the futures market and some merchants were inclined to hold back hedge sales until futures reach higher ground.

Southern Car To Promote Freight Care

An $80,000 railroad car, designed as a theater-on-wheels to encourage safe handling of freight shipments, was dedicated in the Terminal Station yards Tuesday by Southern Railway officials.

D. W. Brosnan of Washington, D. C., Southern's vice president in charge of operations, officiated at the ceremony.

Equipped with audio-visual aids, the new car will tour the 8,000-mile Southern system showing railroaders and shippers proper methods of handling freight in transit.

The heart of the air-conditioned car is a 60-seat theater with raised seats toward the rear for better visibility and microphones for questioning at each seat.

Business in Brief

Howard Freas of Washington, D.C., a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will speak on "A Year in Retrospect" at a meeting of the Transportation Club of Atlanta at the Henry Grady Hotel Thursday night. There will be a social hour at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 7:30. The speaker will be introduced by Rupert L. Murphy, traffic manager of the Georgia-Alabama Textile Traffic Assn.

FORBES INTRODUCED

Francis Forbes, newly appointed executive secretary of the Home Builders Assn. of Atlanta, was introduced at a dinner meeting of the organization Tuesday night. HBAA also presented a certificate for "outstanding accomplishment" to Scott Candler, DeKalb County commissioner of roads and revenues.

STOESSEL PROMOTED

Robert F. Stoessel has been named manager of the sales engineering department of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s Georgia Division at Marietta effective Sept. 1. A 14-year employe of Lockheed, he is a native of Milwaukee and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. In other managerial promotions at Lockheed, Sheppard Homans became manager of the conservation department, Frank J. Graham was named manager of the government-furnished-property department, and J. Thomas Brooks was appointed manager of the stores department.

GE TRANSFERS CARLSON

A. David Carlson, who for the past 16 months has been assistant manager of the General Electric Co.'s lamp division service district in Atlanta, will become manager of a new service office and warehouse in Tampa when it is opened sometime during October, it was announced Tuesday by D. O. Critchett, manager of the GE lamp division district here.

Atlanta Produce

On the Atlanta fresh fruit and vegetable market Tuesday morning receipts were fairly light and there was very little change in price of most items, according to the AMS.

Georgia apples continued to well around 2.50 per bushel for the orchard run stock which seemed to have the best size and color. Some of the graded U.S. No. 1 apples were 2.75. Beans were about steady with butterbeans selling 2.00-2.75 with a few at 3.00, and poles generally 2.50-3.00 with a few at 3.50. Round green snap beans were in good demand and sold generally 2.75-3.00 for fine quality. Some of the poorer offerings were lower. The light supplies of cantaloupes from nearby areas continued to sell mostly 2.00 per bushel, and cabbage was slow and dull at 1.00 per bag for the fair quality and 1.25 for the better offerings. Corn sold from 30-40c per dozen ears and eggplant was a little higher at 2.00-2.25. Okra held at 2.50-3.00 per bushel.

Peaches continued to move slowly at 3.50-4.00 with some of the riper fruit selling as low as 2.00 per bushel. Both Michigan and California peaches were on the market this morning in addition to the fruit from the Southeastern states. Michigan Elbertas sold at 4.25 per bushel for 2-inch and up, and California boxes of the large Rio Oso Gems packed 40-65 per box sold 3.50-3.75.

Peas were 1.25-1.75 per bushel with a few at 2.00. Pears were still around 1.50 per bushel except that some of the larger lots sold at 1.25 per bushel. Peppers were mostly around 1.25-1.50 per bushel for California Wonder Type and Hots were as high as 3.00 per bushel. Some fine quality large repacked in the local wholesale houses brought 2.50, but generally the bushels held more peppers and the quality was of the best. Turnip greens were 1.00-1.25 per bushel with an occasional sale higher. Watermelons, though considerably lighter in supply than last month, were still plentiful and selling at bargain prices with most offerings going around 25-30c per melon, but a few of the best were still as high as 55c.

Sugar Futures

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—World sugar futures were barely steady today with hedging absorbed through short covering. The world raw market was quiet and was quoted at about 3.18 cents a pound F.O.B. Cuba.

Domestic futures were about unchanged. A good part of the activity centered in nearby September where liquidation was absorbed through covering by dealers against sales of raws to cane refiners.

New York refiners today bought 4,600 tons of Philippines due early September and 90,000 bags of Puerto Ricos for mid-September clearance, all at 6.08 cents a pound delivered, unchanged.

Coffee Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—Santos coffee futures dropped the daily trading limit of 200 points for the second straight session today following announcement of the change in Brazilian currency regulation to drop the price of coffee in terms of dollars. There were no outright trades today.

Three coffee roasters have dropped wholesale prices of the roasted product 10 cents a pound and the decline was expected to become general, providing the current sharp reaction is not just a temporary development.

Film Firm's Strickland Dies at 56

Robert B. Strickland, 56, owner of the Strickland Film Co., died Monday night at his home, 195 Pineland Rd., NW, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Strickland had operated his own company for 33 years. A native of Birmingham, Ala., and a graduate of the University of Alabama, he started his film career here with the Famous Players-Lasky Corp., a forerunner of Paramount Pictures.

He and Asa Candler Jr. opened the Graphic Films Co. in the late twenties, but Mr. Strickland later bought out his partner and changed the company to its present name.

The Strickland Film Co. produces television, industrial and educational films. It also produces and processes trailers for motion picture theaters throughout the Southeast.

Mr. Strickland was a charter member of the Atlanta Variety Club, a former member of the Atlanta Athletic Club and a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in Spring Hill. Dr. John B. Tate will officiate. Burial will be held at 3:30 p.m. at the Elmwood Cemetery, Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife, the former Carlotta Huse; a brother, C. Louie Strickland of Atlanta, and a sister, Mrs. James H. Hard of Cobb Island, Md.

$100-$150 PER WK.
I WANT 2 neat appearing men with cars to represent an old national concern. One of the largest of its kind in the country, with offices established throughout the state. If you are willing to work hard for $100 and up per week and you are able to work Mon. through Fri., don't pass up this ad. If you are a man of average intelligence, I want to talk to you. I know what you are probably thinking as you read this ad. The same I thought to myself many times when I was out job hunting, that this is just another ad with a lot of promises. Believe me men, it is not. It is 36 months since I joined this firm and I regret to this day it wasn't 10 years ago. I have made more money in the past 36 months in this firm than I earned with other firms in the previous 5 years. I don't care what your previous experience has been, whether it was selling magazines, books, vacuum cleaners, appliances, pictures, coupons or any other type of work. If you are able to talk to me, I will show you how easy it is to earn up to $150 per wk. with this co. Experience is not necessary, we give you complete training. If accepted you will be employed by one of the largest concerns of its kind in the country. You will be backed by millions of dollars in advanced advertising. This advertising will keep you busy, constantly calling on prospects in your territory. With qualified leads sent in by people demanding that representative call on them. This is a job with security the rest of your life. Get in on the ground floor, you owe it to yourself to answer this ad. You have nothing to lose and everything to gain. Come in and let us prove to you that this is what you have been waiting for. R. J. Lamb, Peachtree on Peachtree Hotel, Wed. from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., only.

A LEGAL RESERVE COMPANY
SPECIALIZING in hospitalization offers several men, on a full-time basis, this splendid opportunity if they qualify:
1. CAN you live on $85 weekly comm. until fully trained? Many of our men make much more from the start.
2. ARE you over 25 and have a car? The older you are, the better.
3. WOULD you be interested in becoming one of our managers after several months? We are a rapidly growing company.
4. WOULD you like to call only on people who have written in to us for information? We do not "cold canvass."
5. WILL you follow instructions? Our company has grown so fast because we have a complete training program.
IF the answers to the above questions are "YES," come in and talk it over with Mr. Trepel at Room 1022 in the Grant Bldg. Out of town men, write and a personal interview will be arranged.

Industrial Salesman
FOR ATLANTA and industrial areas of Ga., North and South Carolina, to headquarters in Atlanta or Charlotte, N.C. Selling a nationally known established line of industrial skin cleansers and plant maintenance materials to industrial paper jobbers, janitor supply jobbers and industrial plants.

MURMURING PINES
FIRST, there is approximately 3 acres of gorgeously landscaped property—flowers bloom year 'round. Next—there are 2 bedrooms, a den, 2 baths, living room w/fireplace, dining room, kitchen with breakfast nook in a spotless interior plus a full basement, including fireplace in the clubhouse. It's a real beauty inside and out. MRS. TOWLES, EX. 2625, R. C. JOHNSON, AT. 2205, CH. 6751.

SUN AND SHADE
THE OWNER HAD A GREEN THUMB. Flowers please the eye and perfume the air. The home is in A-1 condition. Living room with fireplace, dining room, a snow-white kitchen, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths and den. It's away from the maddening throng. R. C. DELL, SR., EX. 4955, WADE CREAGER, EM. 3224, CH. 6751.

LIGHT AND AIRY
A MOST ATTRACTIVE ANTIQUE BRICK year-old home on a rolling wooded lot with a rippling stream. The entrance hall opens into living room, dining room with a marvelous view, then into 3 large bedrooms, 2 baths. There is a paneled den and a modern kitchen with breakfast room and utility room. On the terrace level there is a clubroom with fireplace. Grade school and transportation one block away. MRS. TOWLES, EX. 2625, WADE CREAGER, EM. 3224, CH. 6751.

Opportunity Knocks
CONTEMPORARY STYLING AND AIR CONDITIONED. Beamed ceilings make each room brighter and airier. There's an entrance hall, living room, dining room, kitchen, screened porch and a couple of steps up to 2 bedrooms, den and 2 baths. Individuality plus and remarkably priced at $21,000. BOB DELL, JR. 47-4901, KARL ICENOGLE, CH. 3300, CH. 6751.

CONVENIENCE
ON ONE OF THE FINEST CLOSE-IN ROADS—A white brick home with 2 bedrooms and bath downstairs and bedroom and bath upstairs. The living room and dining room are surprisingly spacious. The kitchen very efficient and the enclosed porch playroom just made for kids. Rear patio and fenced-in yard. The owner is ready to "talk turkey." R. C. JOHNSON, AT. 2205, KARL ICENOGLE, CH. 3300, CH. 6751.

GARDEN HILLS

CLOSE IN
EVERY ROOM IN THE HOUSE IS JUST A LITTLE LARGER than you would expect. Entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. A screened porch to catch the breezes and a playroom and maid's room upstairs. The basement is adequate and there is a 2-car garage. BOB DELL, JR. 47-4901, MRS. BECKNELL, VE. 8437, CH. 6751.

DUPLEXES
THE INCREASED DEMAND FOR INVESTMENT PROPERTY or a home with income makes us pleased to offer 4 duplexes.
THE first is a luxury duplex having a master side with 2 18' bedrooms, 2 baths and a full basement with clubroom. The rental side has an 18' bedroom, den, 2 baths and a full basement. Priced in 40's.
THE second has 2 apartments with 3 bedrooms each—one having 2 baths, the other 1½ baths. It will rent for approximately $350 per month. Priced at $37,500.
THE third has 2 bedrooms, 1 bath in master apartment, 1 bedroom and bath in rental apartment. Most convenient location. Priced at $23,500.
THE fourth has 2 bedrooms and bath, master apartment and a 3-room and bath rental apartment. Priced at $15,000.

Adair's Buckhead Office

IT'S AMAZING BUT IT'S TRUE
YOU ASKED for it and now that it is available you are not taking advantage of your opportunity. You wanted an exclusive location. You wanted a traditional house where the style and quality would be as good in 1999 as it is today. If there are any defects, you want them visable (none are perfect). You did not want cheap hidden defects that could show up later. That is the difference between quality construction and pretty covered-up construction. Owner transferred, we offer you a Williamsburg Colonial, only 3 years old, on lot 115x600, level in front and drops enough for a full daylight basement. 3 bedrms., 3 baths, den, game rm. with bath. Spacious throughout. Look at exterior 2938 Habersham Way, second home off Habersham. Call for appointment. We have a definite exclusive until sold. Earl Stafford, CH. 1326.

THE BEST VALUES ARE OVERLOOKED
AT TIMES you see a home you would like to own. The house is just the one you want but for some reason, usually not clear, you hesitate. A modern home, spacious throughout. Entrance hall, 3 bedrms., 2½ baths, paneled den opening on large screened porch, full daylight basement with game room area. Good lot, 117x200. No. 3278 Pine Meadow Rd., NW. New street between Wood Valley, Moores Mill and W. Paces Ferry. See sign on New Marietta Highway. Do you know that the new NW Expressway goes around this section of the Marietta Highway and that all through traffic will by-pass this street and that you will live off a fine street with just the usual neighborhood traffic. You should investigate this one. Earl Stafford, CH. 1326; Ernest Crim, RA. 0794. Exclusive.

779 GREENVIEW AVE. PEACHTREE PARK
CORNER of Dale Dr. Vacant. We have key. Attractive white brick on beautiful, large lot. Living rm., dining rm., modern kitchen, laundry rm. off kitchen, 2 large bedrooms, double bath, tub and stall shower, side screened porch. On 2nd floor is another large bedroom. Daylight basement, playroom attached to garage. This is a substantial home on the bus line. Priced $20,000 class. Mrs. R. J. Tatum, CH. 5988.

A Rhyme a Day

"Learn to be a good listener. Most people like to talk and if you will be receptive it will add to your popularity."—Article quote.—"Do People Like You."

My grandpa said, "You should listen, son . . . when a person talks, till his talk is done . . . for you don't know much, and you'll find it best . . . to allow your tongue to take a rest . . . while you hear what others have to say . . . and you might learn something that's new that way.

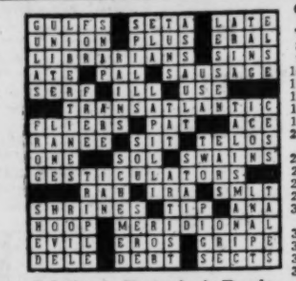

"I have noticed, too, that the smartest men . . . are the ones who sit and listen when . . . some long-speeched talker has the floor . . . or they're button-holed by some windy bore . . . they don't talk back, while he talks so fast . . . that the truth comes tumbling out, at last . . . so you'll llearn a lot, if you'll just be smart . . . and with little exertion on your part."

That's a difficult thing for a man to learn . . . for we have to talk, when it "comes our turn" . . . we think too little and talk too much . . . and often we get ourselves "in dutch" . . . and to quote the words of my old grand-pap . . . "You don't catch much till you close your trap."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	1 spade	2 dmns	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	3 clubs	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of spades.

All generalities, such as the one which deals with the covering of honors, should be applied only after duly considering the various possibilities of the hand. Before deciding on a course of action declarer should face the question: "Who has what?" This simple routine might have prevented declarer from making the initial misstep which cost him the game contract.

The contract of four hearts was natural. South was somewhat conservative on his first rebid. Some players would have preferred a jump to three hearts, but we do not disapprove of his choice. With three losing spades and the blocking ace of partner's suit, conservative action is to be favored inasmuch as North has served notice with his two diamond bid that he has a good hand, and it is not to be expected that he will check out at two hearts. After North showed his second suit, South then applied the steam.

West opened the queen of spades and reflex action, it seems, dictated the cover of the honor. East won with the ace and the return of the deuce spoke eloquently as to his holding. He could have no more, for when South followed to the second trick it was proven that East could not originally have had four of the suit. West, of course, continued with a third round and East was able to overruff the dummy. West had then but to wait for his king of hearts to beat the contract.

At the conclusion of the exercises, North took pains to point out that refusal to cover the queen of spades would have led to the fulfillment of the contract. He went on to express himself in a manner which suggested that South had acted in a naive fashion. "Who did you think had the ace?" he queried rhetorically. "West bid the suit," was declarer's reply. North had only one more convenient comment to add. "If anyone is good enough to lead the queen from the ace-queen and others, against a four-heart contract before seeing the dummy," he said, "you ought to be willing to pay off to him."

If South ducks the opening lead, East is in at trick two and cannot reach partner's hand in time to get the ruff. In the meantime South obtains the lead, cashes the ace of diamonds, and discards his third spade on dummy's king of diamonds.

Policeman Sought in Hall

Constitution State News Service

FLOWERY BRANCH, Aug. 17—A police officer to work part time is being sought by Flowery Branch city officials.

Police Officer Leonard Phagan, the center of a bitter controversy involving Mayor H. L. Reed and the city council, resigned last week, officials report.

At the latest meeting of the council, the removal of the mayor's authority to countersign city checks was sustained by a majority of the members. During the controversy over Phagan's salary, the council voted to turn the check-signing powers over to Councilman Frank Knight.

It has been agreed that $25 a week will be paid in salary to a part-time police officer.

In other actions, the council voted to install 10 fire hydrants by Sept. 1; made arrangements for cleaning grass and weeds off the city streets and voted to mark off customer-parking space in front of the post office.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Dogs Know Diffeernce Between Right, Wrong

Rev. Duane Hulse is a clergyman in Sheboygan, Wisc., who married my cousin.

Recently he dropped in for a visit while he was here in Chicago at a conference.

As he started to sit down on the davenport, he noticed a couple of new wooden mousetraps lying on the cushions.

"What's the matter?" he inquired. "Do you have mice in the upholstery?"

"No, those are to keep the dog off the davenport," I replied. "She once stuck her nose in a trap that was set. It went off, and snapped the tip of her nose.

"Ever since then, she has avoided mousetraps. So we buy a few new traps and lay them on the chairs and davenport. We don't set them, so they will not go off and snap a human being, but they are mighty fine protection for our upholstery."

DOG PSYCHOLOGY

Pain is one of the most efficient teachers, both of dogs and children, which is why a little corporal punishment is not amiss, if applied judiciously.

In psychology we would say that our dog Sandy has been "conditioned" unfavorably to the sight of a wooden mousetrap.

Sandy knows that she is not supposed to sleep in our upholstered chairs, even though we may fail to place a mousetrap thereon.

But she will hop into a chair, nevertheless, if we are not present or if the mousetrap is missing.

DOG CAMOUFLAGE

Yesterday, I could see Sandy curled up in a comfortable upholstered chair. Then she heard Mrs. Crane's footstep at the top of the stairway.

So Sandy jumped out of the chair and trotted into the dining room where she has a box in one corner.

She hastened to her box, then turned around and slowly walked to meet Mrs. Crane.

When my wife entered the room, Sandy stretched thoroughly to intimate that she had been sleeping in her box and had just awakened.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VanDELLEN

Birthmarks Attributed To Misdirected Cells

Birthmarks (nevi) are mistakes of nature and do not result, as grandmother believed, from a scare or fright during pregnancy. The lesions consist of cells that originally were destined to become blood vessels but were misdirected and landed on the skin. Their size and shape depend upon whether the tissues are from capillaries, arteries, or veins and this also explains why the color varies.

Most simple birthmarks are flush with the skin and blanch when stretched. They generally appear at birth or shortly thereafter and range in size from a small dot to a widely distributed area. The most common is a red mark at the nape of the neck. The pale and pink marks lighten as a rule and disappear by the second year.

The easiest to describe is the flat, bluish red blotch that looks like a port wine stain on the skin. This stain seldom changes and usually persists throughout life. This lesion is best left alone unless removal will improve an unsightly appearance. The majority can be camouflaged with cosmetics made for this purpose.

Birthmarks that are raised above the surface of the skin are more complicated. They are bright red (strawberry) or dull purplish red (raspberry) in color. Unpredictable is the word for this type; some disappear spontaneously within five to seven years whereas others grow so rapidly heroic measures are needed to bring them under control.

They may be present at birth or make their appearance during the first few weeks of life. The involved area often swells when the child coughs or cries. It is difficult to be dogmatic about treatment because each lesion presents an individual problem.

Atlanta's British Consul Retiring to Scotch Home

John Campbell Thomson, British consul here since 1951 and a veteran foreign office official, was making some "au revoir" calls in Atlanta Tuesday.

Thomson, whose twinkling eyes and jaunty step belie the fact that he has reached retirement age, is leaving Atlanta to return to the spot where he was born, Scotland's ancient capital of Dunfermline in Fife.

"And really," he said Tuesday, in the Scotsman's accent he never never lost, "it doesn't seem so long since I was a lad of 15 in Dunfermline, just leaving school to enter the Home Civil Service as a post office savings bank clerk in London!"

Thomson is 60 now, and his 40-odd years in his country's service spanned "some vital history." Yet the British consul insists his role has been "really rather humdrum."

STARTED IN 1919

Thomson, who served for three years with the famed Black Watch Regiment during World War I, was appointed to Britain's Foreign Office in 1919. He spent 20 years in Washington, D. C., first as British vice consul, then consul.

In the nation's capital he saw three presidents at work, Coolidge, Hoover, and Roosevelt. He has "a tremendous admiration for Mr. Roosevelt, who seemed to be to your country what Winston Churchill is to ours."

As for Churchill, Thomson treasures an autographed photograph of "Winnie," given to him when Thomson served as British consul of Miami in 1946 during a holiday visit Churchill made to the Florida resort.

A high point of Thomson's Washington service was the 1939 visit of Britain's King and Queen to this country. The consul became a member of the Victorian Order as a result of his "personal services to the king" at this time. Thomson also holds another prized decoration as an officer in the Order of the British Empire, awarded him by the late King George VI.

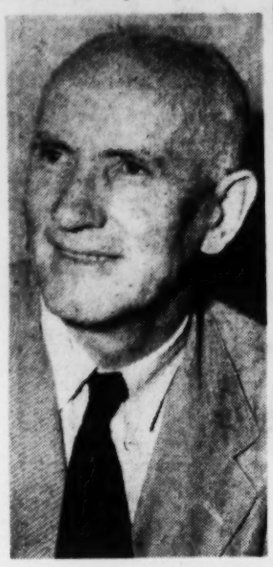

4 AMBASSADORS

Thomson attended the San Francisco conference in 1945. At the British Embassy in Washington he served under four different ambassadors, Sir Esme Howard, Sir Ronald Linday, Lord Lothian, and Lord Halifax.

A bachelor, Thomson "will not return as a stranger to my old home," he reported. He has a brother and three sisters still living in Dunfermline and has made 16 visits home during his time in the United States, the latest visit made only last year.

An ardent golfer, he plans to "play on my old home courses again."

A successor to Thomson has not be announced. Vice Consul Desmond A. Batwell will serve as acting consul here until further notice.

Vandiver Says Rival Coerces

Ernest Vandiver, candidate for lieutenant governor, Tuesday night charged that one of his opponents is requiring all employes of his former department, through his successor, to campaign for him under threat of losing their jobs after the election.

Speaking on television and obviously referring to former Veterans Service Director Billy Barrett, Vandiver said "each employe knows his head is on the block."

Vandiver said the opponent has let them know that, unless they support their former boss, he will get their jobs either by coming back to his old post or through his successor, whom Vandiver said the opponent controls.

Vandiver also expressed appreciation for his "fine newspaper support, which ranged from the largest metropolitan dailies to the smallest weeklies."

Abram Says Economies Of Foe Hurt

Morris Abram, Fifth District congressional candidate, Tuesday again hit at what he calls "false economy" in the voting record of incumbent representative James C. Davis, and Davis countered by saying he recognized PAC methods in Abram's campaign.

Abram, Davis, and Wyman C. Lowe spoke to the Decatur Civitan Club at noon. Abram, Lowe and a Davis representative spoke to the Druid Hills Civic Assn. Tuesday, and Davis appeared later on a telecast with two supporters.

SAYS GIs HIT

At the Civitan luncheon, Abram said Davis voted against salary increases for armed service personnel. He said it would take an equivalent of 100 years' of a $50-per-month salary increase to pay for training a new pilot, when the pay increase could have prompted the already trained pilot to reenlist.

Abram said Davis practiced economy "like a man shooting with a shotgun into a crowd—you might hit your enemy, but you also might kill your friend."

Davis said he recognized the phrase "meat-ax economy" being used against him "as an old faithful of the Political Action Committee of the CIO."

CLAIMS ECONOMY GOAL

The incumbent said he was seeking to effect economy in government and that "you can't cut up a steer with a penknife."

At the meeting and later on the telecast, Davis answered charges by Abram that the incumbent was not a "good Democrat." The congressman said that he certainly was not a "Humphries, Soapy Williams, Junior Roosevelt type of Democrat" and he opposed radical elements in the party.

During the Davis telecast, Henry L. Bowden, Atlanta attorney and trustee of Emory University, read statements he said other congressmen made to support Davis' prestige in Congress.

CITES SLUM CLEARANCE

Abram based his Civitan talk on the part he said government should play in free enterprize. He said a housing project in which he had an interest had 100 tenants that were made customers of the private project and other private business by being pulled from the slums into public housing.

Davis said when Abram talked about free enterprise he "finally is coming around to my platform."

Abram highlighted his Druid Hills talk by attacking the County Unit System and its use, not only in the Fifth District, but in Georgia.

At both meetings, Lowe spoke against the County Unit System, and said he favored across-the-board income tax reductions and cited college training in government as a valuable asset in his candidacy.

Predict New Record For City Construction

By HERMAN HANCOCK

Value of construction authorized in Atlanta appeared on Tuesday to be headed for an all-time record for the second consecutive year.

City Building Inspector William R. Wofford released figures showing that construction valued at $57,517,389 was authorized through Aug. 16, 1954, and that values through August, 1953, totaled $58,152,556, only $635,167 more than the value through last Monday.

Wofford said he believes that construction which will be authorized for the remainder of this month will push the total ahead of last year's figure and expressed confidence that a new record would be set for 1954.

Last year an all-time record was established when values totaled $80,950,592 and 10,506 permits were issued. Thus far this year a total of 6,433 permits have been issued, compared with 7,527 through Aug. last year.

Among permits issued during August this year are two A. & P. stores costing a total of $72,000; a $245,000 warehouse at 1275 Ellsworth Dr., NW, for D. Rushton Co., and an educational building for the Virginia Avenue Baptist Church costing $125,000. One of the A. & P. stores will be at 683 Ashby St., SW, and the other at 2009 Jonesboro Rd., SE.

New City Maps Ready

New city maps showing corporate changes up until July 1, 1954, are now available at the Municipal Planning Board office at $1 each. Changes show new territory added since the last map was published in 1952. Also shown are streets, highways, new schools, parks and other data. The map, on a scale where one inch equals 2,000 feet, lists the corporate area at 126,997 square miles compared to 117,576 for 1952; 3,555 streets as against 3,403 for the old map; 123 schools compared to 111 for 1952, and 28 fire stations against 25 for 1952. In addition, the new map shows 87 park sites and 16 libraries or branches, none of which were indicated on the old map.

Dedication of Building

Formal dedication of the $635,000 F. W. Olin Industrial Building for Negroes has been set for 11 a.m. Sept. 15, it was announced Tuesday. The new facility is adjacent to the Carver (Negro) Vocational School and is said to be the most modern facility in this part of the country. Charles L. Horn, president of Olin Foundation, Minneapolis; James O. Wynn, legal adviser, Ralph Clark, organization secretary-treasurer, and their wives are scheduled to attend. Horn will address the dedication, which will be attended by Board of Education and civic leaders.

Milk Prices

Farmers' prices for milk and butterfat are expected to continue near June levels during the remainder of this year, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Decatur High, Avondale Plan Vocational Training

Decatur and Avondale High Schools will begin a co-operative training program for the first time this fall whereby a limited number of students will receive vocational training on the job as a part of their academic program.

DeKalb County schools will be trying out the project at Avondale while Decatur High, part of the city's independent system, initiates its work-study program.

John Varner, who will head Decatur's program, said some 15 to 20 students will be selected for cooperative training whom school officials feel will benefit most from it. He added that it will probably be enlarged in future years if an increasing number of students desire practical vocational training.

The program will be set up with each student attending regular classes during the morning, taking two academic courses instead of the regular four. Then one additional hour of related study and training will be given them in the specialized field they chose to follow.

In the afternoons participating students will work on the job from three to five hours to complete their course. Credit will be given for both the related study and the on-the-job training enabling students to complete work for their high school diploma along with their regular class.

He pointed out that the vocational training will be primarily for students who do not plan to attend college. It will enable them, he commented, to have something to offer an employer as soon as they finish high school and are ready for work.

Varner said the Decatur plan will probably be more of an apprentice-type program with emphasis on training in trades and industry. It will be open to both boys and girls.

Some 25 schools in Georgia already have similar programs in operation. The first one in Georgia was set up in 1937 at Monroe. It is supervised by the Department of Trade and Industrial Education of the State Department of Education.

Varner, a native of Carnesville, is a graduate of Clemson College and holds his M.A. degree from Peabody College. For the past four years he has taught industrial arts at Cordele.

The Avondale program will be headed up by J. H. Couley. The two schools will cooperate on placing students in jobs after the vocational training plans go into effect.

The post office also revealed that two new stamps will be issued for the first time next month. A 4-cent air-mail will go on sale here Sept. 4 and a Jefferson 2-cent stamp will be released here Sept. 16.

35 Signed Up For Tennis Meet

More than 35 contestants have registered for the fourth annual Decatur Tennis Tournament which starts Thursday on Glenlake courts.

The Decatur Recreation Office announced registrations will be received through Thursday when the preliminary matches begin. Play will continue through next week with matches in the men's singles, women's singles and adult mixed doubles divisions being completed Friday night. Presentation of trophies and medals will be made then.

RED DEVIL'S DEN

Teenagers Throng Druid Hills Center

It's a fact that the youngsters of Druid Hills are going in droves to the Red Devil's Den.

This particular den is one of metropolitan Atlanta's most active teen-age clubs, crowded to the limit every night, it's open with boys and girls enjoying good fun.

It all started about the time school was out this spring, when the Druid Hills Civic Assn., the PTA and the Lions Club spearheaded a move for community activities.

The first night the Den was open, eight chapersons and one boy showed up, but since then the sponsors have been overwhelmed by the crowds that have arrived regularly on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights at the basement of the Druid Hills High School gym.

Favorite activities for teen-agers have been provided for under one roof, with many choices of games as well as just sitting and talking. There's a big dance floor with the latest records on the jukebox, and booths for a game of cards or just sitting around and nibbbling on refreshments.

POOL AND PING-PONG

On the other side of the Den is a pool table, where youngsters line up hours ahead of time for a brief allotted time to play, and four ping-pong tables that are kept busy cortinuously.

Along the walls are pinball machines for the former drugstore cowboys, but they don't take any money. It's all a game of fun.

The Den has really become habit-forming, the youngsters say. They even kept coming on sweltering evenings early this summer when the heat made the basement center seem just like a real Red Devil's Den. But the civic association and the PTA bought and installed huge fans to help the youngsters beat the heat.

COMMUNITY ACTIVITY

So many persons have aided and worked with the project that it is really a community activity, but a few of the more diligent workers include Ben Wiseberg and Chilly Chilton, who have been at the club almost every evening it's been open; Mrs. A. D. Boylston, head of a civic association committee to promote a community center; Mrs. Marcus Bartlett and Mrs. Ross Henley, of the PTA, and Shelton Goble, principal of Druid Hills.

The eventual aim, according to Mrs. Boylston, is the construction of a real community center for Druid Hills residents with activities for all age groups.

4,000 DeKalb Youngsters To Enter 1st Grade Sept. 3

All DeKalb County schools will open Sept. 3 for the 1954-55 school year, according to an announcement this week by Supt. Jim Cherry.

Cherry estimated that some 23,500 children will be enrolled on opening day, 3,200 more than attended DeKalb County schools last year. The big jump will come with first graders, where some 4,000 youngsters who will become six years of age on or before Dec. 31 will be enrolled for the first time.

"SHOTS" REQUIRED

The department also issued special instructions for parents of the new first graders. All must be immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus and must bring certificates evidencing the immunizations at the time of registration.

School officials also called on transfer students entering the DeKalb system for the first time to bring transcripts of their records from previous schools.

Cherry said that all school-age children must enroll on opening day and no child may register in a school outside of his attendance area.

3 NEW SCHOOLS

Transportation will be provided for children living outside of the one-mile radius from their school beginning Sept. 3, he added.

Three new DeKalb schools will be opening for the first time. They are elementary schools at Tucker, Avondale and Stone Mountain. The Tucker school will accommodate some 600 students and the Avondale school about 400. The new building at Stone Mountain replaces the one destroyed by fire during the past school year.

Glenlake-McKoy Meet Postponed To Friday Night

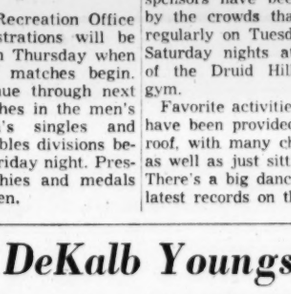

The Glenlake - McKoy Swim Meet, originally scheduled for Thursday night, has been postponed until 8 p.m. Friday, according to an announcement from the Decatur Recreation Dept.

The change, officials said, was necessary because several local swimmers are scheduled to participate in a pre-Havalanta meet Thursday evening.

Regular events will include free style, back stroke, breast stroke, butterfly stroke and diving, as well as several novelty races. These will be a penny dive for youngsters under seven, and candle and umbrella races to add to the entertainment.

Registration for any of the events may be made at either Glenlake or McKoy pool through Wednesday.

Avondale High Sets Co-op Plan

A Diversified Co-operative Training program, which eventually will be used in all high schools in DeKalb County, will be introduced in Avondale High School when school begins next month, it was announced by James Cherry, superintendent of schools in DeKalb County.

The new program will permit junior and senior students to participate in a part-time work and study program and will be designed to prepare students for employment in occupations of their choice.

The DCT program will be geared to keep the school system abreast of the rapid strides that have been made in the growth of business and industry in the county during the past few years, and it is hoped that it will give the county businesses a better selection of personnel in terms of job requirements and individual differences.

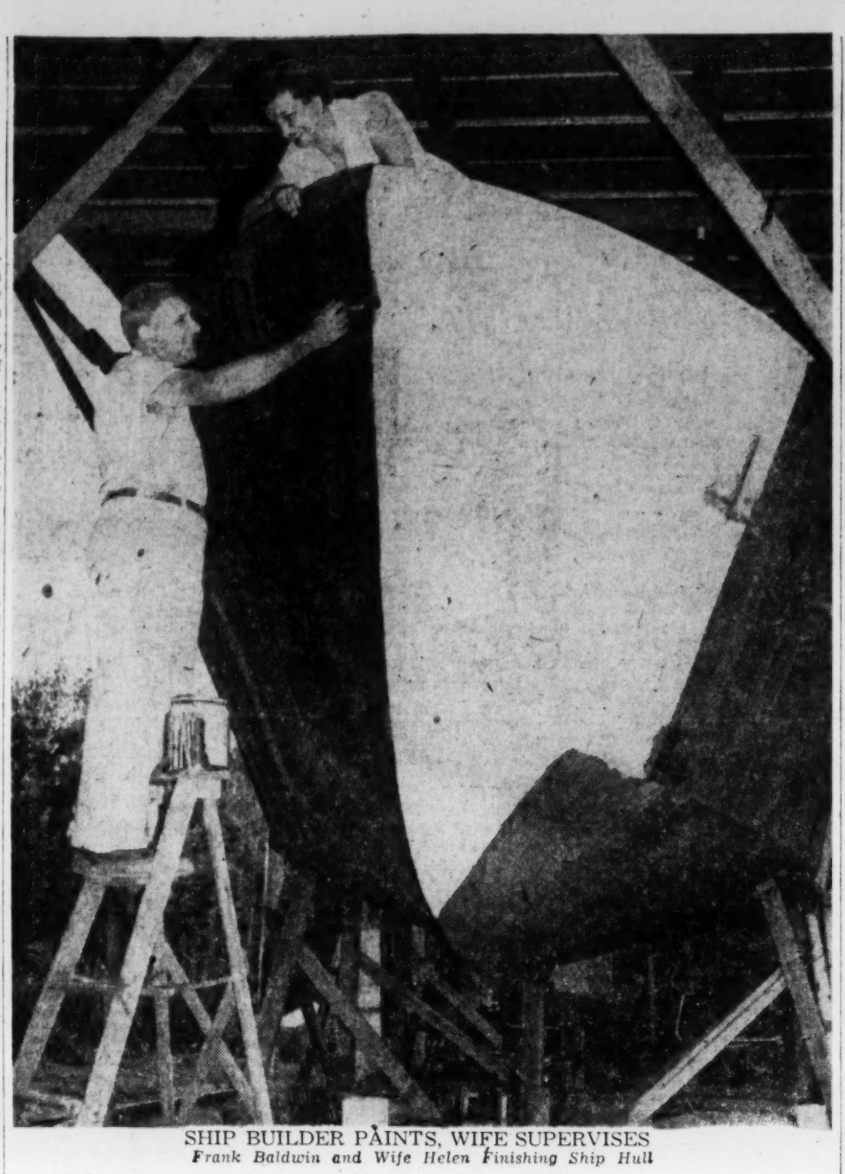

Students participating in the new program will arrange their school schedule so their time may be divided between scholastic work and part-time paid jobs, spending approximately half of the regular day in each capacity.

Student credit will be given for supervised work experiences and for related instruction. The two-year course will earn the student four unit credits toward graduation. The program is limited to junior and senior students.

Job time will be devoted to performing tasks normally assigned to new workers in the occupation. Employer-trainers and the school coordinators will supervise the job training.

J. H. Cooley, until last June a member of the Jordon High School Vocational Staff at Columbus, has been named coordinator of the DCT program. He will be located at the Avondale school.

Cooley has a bachelors and a masters degree from the University of Georgia and has completed graduate work at Auburn and Florida State universities.

Building Code Is Changed At Chamblee

Changes in the Chamblee building code have been passed by city council to make it uniform with the DeKalb County code, according to Mayor Woody Malone.

One change provides that property owners build at least five feet from the property line. This change is in line with the ordinance which states that no rain shall pour from a roof to a neighbor's roof.

Other changes conform with minimum construction standards of the Department of Inspection for DeKalb County.

City Council also issued a special permit to Flag Stop Restaurant to allow it to remain open after midnight. Several months ago the permit was revoked from the restaurant under different management due to noise.

Chamblee also passed the revised minimum taxi rate ordinance, sponsored by North DeKalb Liaison Council, which states that a charge of 25 cents should be paid to the operator for the first mile and one-half. Fifteen cents will be paid for the next mile or part thereof.

Women's Club Sets Fund Drive

The youth conservation department of the North Clairmont Women's Club recently launched an advertising program for card tables and playing cards to provide funds for two Girl Scout and five Brownie troops the organization sponsors.

The youth activity program of the club soon may include a new Cub Scout group, which also will share in the $500 goal set for the program.

The club also is planning a benefit bridge and canasta party Aug. 27, proceeds going in the general club fund and the clubhouse fund.

Bowling League To Be Formed

An organizational meeting of the Northside Tenpin League will be held at 8 p.m., Aug. 30, at the Pee-Gee Paint Store, according to L. V. Kelper, president.

Three teams already have organized, Kepler said, and six or eight more teams are expected to join. The three already listed are the Buckhead Bowling Center, American Legion Post No. 65 and the Carborundum team.

Kelper said anyone interested in joining should attend the organization meeting. The league will begin bowling Sept. 13.

Graduation Slated for 81 At Oglethorpe

Eighty-one students will be graduated from Oglethorpe University at this summer's commencement exercises at 10:45 a.m. Friday in the school chapel, announced J. Whitney Bunting, president.

Dr. George Seward, vice president of the university, will deliver the commencement address to the graduates who are primarily from the Atlanta area.

Seventy-four graduates will receive B.S. degrees in education and seven will receive an A.B. degree.

League To Hear State Candidates

The DeKalb League of Women Voters will be addressed by four candidates for the State House of Representatives at a luncheon at 12:30 p.m., Aug. 26, in the Candler Hotel in Decatur.

The speakers will be Guy Rutland Jr., James A. Almand Sr., James A. Mackay and William P. Holly. They will discuss issues concerning local and state governments.

Oglethorpe Estates Church To Use Library Building

The Oglethorpe Estates Methodist Church will use a surplus library building as a church on its new lot at Ashford, Dunwoody and Johnsons Ferry roads.

The congregation bought the building from Lawson General Hospital and moved it in sections to the lot. The group eventually plans to add a Sunday School building to the church and install new pews.

The Rev. Hubert L. Flanagan, pastor, who came to the church July 1, said the lot was purchased last fall and the library building purchased in May. The congregation, the North Georgia Conference and various Atlanta churches contributed funds for the building, he added.

The 80 members of the congregation, who have been worshipping in two apartment units, also plan to replace the 80 by 30-foot building with a new and larger sanctuary as soon as funds are available.

The church was organized in 1949 and the Rev. Jack Speers served the church until July 1.

Battle Hill Lodge Offers Masonic Play

The Battle Hill Lodge of Atlanta will portray the Masonic play, "Rose on the Altar," Thursday evening at the Pythagoras Lodge in Decatur.

Pythagoras' Worshipful Master A. H. Erwin said the program will begin at 7 p.m. with a banquet in honor of the visiting Atlanta Masons.

NAUTICAL LUXURY ON NORTH FULTON DRIVE

Building 40-Ft. Boat in Backyard

Working from directions in magazines, Frank Baldwin, of 2903 North Fulton Dr., is building a 40-foot steel cabin cruiser, the kind he dreamed of as a boy.

If Baldwin bought the boat he's building, it would cost $32,000. He estimates material for the boat, which he has been working on for more than three years, will cost $8,000.

The keel was laid in May of 1951. The hull has been completed and would have been completed a year earlier, Baldwin said, if the metal hadn't warped.

Baldwin said that painting of the hull will be completed within a month and that the boat should be completed within two years.

The boat, named Helen III for Baldwin's wife, will be luxuriously equipped with a complete bath, including a shower; galley, complete with stove, refrigerator, and a trailer double sink; sleeping arrangements for eight, and fluorescent lighting.

The craft will be powered by two 115-horsepower engines. She will carry a 234-gallon gas tank and 100-gallon tank for fresh water.

Deck fittings are handmade by Baldwin and will be chrome plated. The hull will be painted white, with a mahogany false deck.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will attend a boat show in New York City this winter for ideas on decorating.

Highlander Band Rehearsals Set For 10 Days

Members of the Northside Highlander Elementary Band will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday at E. Rivers School auditorium to begin a 10-day band workshop session, Mrs. Ben Logan Sisk, director of the band, announced.

The band, comprising musicians from R. L. Hope, E. Rivers, Rock Springs, Garden Hills, Brandon, Sarah Smith and Margaret Mitchell elementary schools, will practice from 9:30 to 11 a.m. each day.

Mrs. Sisk said that since the band is scheduled to rehearse only once a week during the school year, the purpose of the workshop is to give the group a period of daily rehearsals.

Lions Set Street Carnival For Sept. 2 in Chamblee

The date for the annual street carnival and dance sponsored by the North DeKalb Lions Club has been set for Sept. 2, according to Roy Head, club publicity director.
